Everyone is aware that the last year has changed the world significantly, including the face of the hospitality industry and how we interact with drinks. What is less frequently remarked upon, is that many of these changes have in fact consolidated and accelerated consumer behaviour that was already in evidence. For those who were tuned into consumer trends, the last year has oddly enough provided a lot of positive evidence to reinforce where we predicted the market would go.

Enotria&Coe reported at the beginning of 2020 in our trends report that we were going to see ever-increasing numbers of consumers drinking less but better. Drinking better includes drinking better quality liquid, but also in more stimulating and more memorable surroundings. The experience or occasion has continued to grow in importance, as consumers are feeling starved for them. Part of a stimulating experience can also be satisfying the consumer's growing awareness of sustainability and health. "Drinking better" means drinking wines that are better for your health, better for the planet and better for the community.

Our Buying team has always proudly sourced with vitality and verve. It has always been our mission to identify producers who provide the best experiences, whether it be through their compelling provenance, history or commitment to sustainability. The integrity of our approach means that our portfolio is peppered with historic brands that we've been incredibly proud to work with for almost half a century; brands like Jermann, Ascheri and Bertani.

By continuing to follow these principles over the last year, our Buying team has stayed ahead of the curve. We've built relationships with up-and-coming producers in Australia, Spain, USA who are combining tradition and innovation in their approaches to winemaking. While some of these wear a very contemporary brand identity that makes them look very different to some of our heritage brands, you will see that quality of narrative and experience that is a hallmark of the Enotria&Coe portfolio.

The UK hospitality industry has come on in leaps and bounds since Enotria&Coe was founded in the 1970s. Equally, our customer base has expanded from the original heartland of traditional Italian restaurants in London and we have had to adapt in the service we deliver. But one thing has never changed, and has never been called into question. By sticking to our guns and never compromising as we build a stellar portfolio, we now find ourselves perfectly poised to deliver the wines and experiences that engaged consumers are demanding.

What's happened in your regions this year, and what does that mean?

There is no winemaker, region or country who has not had to face challenges in the face of the pandemic. Australia was thrown an additional tribulation when China, previously responsible for 40% of the country's exports, imposed eye-watering new tariffs that would turn their export strategy on its head. My response has been to support our Australian partners and to seek opportunities and trends that support them as well as invigorate our customers.

What's new in our range and why is that exciting?

Our current portfolio reflects a combination of smart pricing at the commercial end and exciting wines with provenance and story. This year, I've added a number of new cool-climate focused producers to our Australian stable.

What are the three best-in-class wines in your region, and what channels are they best-suited to?

As a born-and-bred Kiwi, I'm loath to admit that my top three wines are all Aussie superstars. My professional objectivity has won out though, as there's no denying the quality here.

There is Pikes from Clare Valley whose Traditonale Riesling is the most successful premium Riesling in their domestic market. We've also added Silver Lining, a start-up, philanthropic project from Marty Edwards, a portion of whose proceeds all go towards research into Parkinson's disease. Last but not least, we've bolstered the range by adding Swinney from Frankland River, who's 2018 centenarian bush vine Grenache is lauded to mark history as one of the greatest Grenache of all time.

Rojomoma Barossa Shiraz

This is a true sommelier wine (not usually synonymous with Barossa Shiraz!), human scale, lower in alcohol and fruit dominant. It is as honest as they get and a far cry from the oak blockbusters often associated with this region.

Code: H7036116

Chaffey Pax Aterna Old Vine Barossa Nouveau Grenache

A great recommendation for Beaujolais lovers in any independent retailer. A wine that is as flamboyant as its label: cool, spicy and refreshing in every sense.

Code: G0356119

Pikes Companeros Shiraz/Tempranillo

I am lucky to taste and drink a lot of great wines, but it's rare to come across one where the quality far outweighs the value. This as an unbeatable by the glass wine in restaurants and gastro pubs looking for interest, value and difference in their by the glass offering.

Italy

What’s happened in your regions this year, and what does that mean?

Italy was badly affected by the pandemic and also found herself without a Government at the beginning of 2021. Despite this, the wine trade emerged from 2020 with lots of opportunities and innovation.

The surplus stock that a lot of us were forecasting at the end of last year did not happen and sales were not as disastrous as we all thought.

That said, a lot of small to medium wineries are suffering and I am seeing a notable decrease in the number of companies in the trade. While unfortunate for them, I think this could be quite positive for a market that is so saturated.

What’s new in our range and why is that exciting?

I am very excited by the return of La Spinetta to our range. It adds prestige and reinvigorates our credentials as one of the top Italian specialists in the country. La Spinetta has always been a front runner in the Italian trade from their starting point with Moscato d’Asti to their Barbaresco, Barolo and the great experiment in Tuscany with Sangiovese. Another experiment which has taken Italy by storm is the Timorasso. I believe it is a classic wine for ageing, which isn’t a category that Italian wines specialise in.

In addition to Spinetta we’ve also brought in their sister company, Contratto, the historic sparkling wine producers. This boosts our ability to service consumers enjoying the aperitivo renaissance that’s growing in the UK on-trade.

What are the three best-in-class wines in your region, and what channels are they best-suited to?

2019 Valpolicella DOC, Bertani

When we speak of Bertani, the tendency is to think of Amarone and big chunky red wines such as Ripasso and the top single vineyards like Ognissanti and Catullo. But for a fresh and balanced style I would turn my attention to the Valpolicella. This is possibly one of the best wines we have in from Italy at an affordable price point. It’s perfect for casual dining or as a reliable house red in more premium on-trade. It’s no secret that this is the De Luca’s family’s house red.

Code: B66961

Arneis Pradalupo Fontanafredda

Fruity and soft, with tropical fruit on the nose and a great finish. Just imagine, thirty years ago this grape variety was nearly close to extinction, it is now one of the most appreciated white wines of Italy. It’s a perfect summer wine, especially as an aperitif.

Code: 653761

Santa Cecilia Nero d’Avola, Planeta

When E&C began importing Planeta wines, they were only just starting out as an independent company. I have a soft spot for all their wines expressions, but I this might just be the best red in the world. Over the years it has become a benchmark for native Sicilian grape varieties. It’s a wine that continues to evolve and its bouquet is very typical of this island with spiciness, and deep black cherry fruit

What's happened in your regions this year, and what does that mean?

In Spain, Catalunya has been shaken up by producers breaking away from the Cava DO to form a brand new sparkling wine association called Corpinnat. This is a great nod to the incredible quality of Spanish sparkling wine beyond entry-level Cava. Indigenous varietals are seeing a resurgence, which makes wines on the market more diverse and interesting.

Fans of Malbec are reaching beyond Mendoza to discover new regions like Mar de Plata and Patagonia. Chilean winemaking has been gradually developing to allow different terroirs to shine through with neutral oak and removing any additives. The new world's oldest winemaking region, Itata is definitely one to watch here.

What's new in our range and why is that exciting?

Juan Gil boasts some of the highest altitude Monastrell vineyards in Jumilla. They were awarded "best value red wine" at Wines from Spain, and their entirely off-grid winery sets the bar for sustainable winemaking.

We have new deeply traditional Garnacha-based wines from Scala Dei (one of Spain's most historic estates) and also punchy Garnacha at a compelling price point from Bodegas Care. Bodegas Verum is a pioneer of natural winemaking earning it much critical acclaim from the likes of Jancis Robinson. Gramona is one of the leading sparkling producers behing Corpinnat, and is the industry expert in extended lees aging.

Last but not least, we welcomed Chile's top family estate, De Martino. Winemaker Marcelo Retamal more or less single-handedly redefined Chile's winemaking style.

What are the three best-in-class wines in your region, and what channels are they best-suited to?

Rioja San Vicente, Señorío de San Vicente

Recognised as the brains behind Spain's most premium and sought-after wines, visionary winemaker Marcos Eguren moves the dial of Spanish wine making. His San Vicente has become one of the most revered Rioja wines particularly for its use of the very elegant, albeit incredibly hard to ripen, Tempranillo Peludo.

Code: C9156116

Old Vine Pais/San Francisco 'Las Olvidadas', De Martino

I would urge everyone to give this a try. It's made using the ancient Spanish crushing method of Zaranda (using bamboo canes to crush the fruit), zero sulphur and with absolute respect to the vineyard. A truly unique wine from an often-overlooked country.

Code: J4266118

III Lustros Brut Nature Corpinnat, Gramona

Extended lees aging (on cork), hand riddling and hand disgorging (you can still see the chalk mark on the bottom of the bottle where it was turned), this is a truly artisan product. Their Imperial (J4726115) is incredible value and stands up to any vintage Champagne. But the III Lustros is truly decadent and rivals the best sparkling wines of the world, reflected in its Platinum medal at Decanter.

What's happened in your regions this year, and what does that mean?

Prosecco has become a “lifestyle symbol” that evokes celebrations and “la dolce vita”. There can be no doubt that it has been one of the biggest trends of the past decade but the only permitted grape varietal was Glera. Despite the chaos and disruption of 2020, the Prosecco Consorzio legislated to approve a new category of Prosecco Rosé that uses 10-15% of Pinot Nero and is aged for at least 60 days. As hospitality reopens, I'm very excited to see how consumers react to this brand-new fusion of two of the most popular drinks trends.

The trend for bubbles continues in Emilia Romagna too, where sparkling wine has gained proper recognition and even saw the birth of the denomination “Novebolle”. The story is greater than varietals or regionality however, it's about the power of collaboration, the energy of shared vision and the courage to step out of your comfort zone. The likes of Bolé and others in our range have seen an uplift as a result of more drinkers engaging with Italy's newest Spumante DOC and the idea of everyday extravagance.

What are the three best-in-class wines in your region, and what channels are they best-suited to?

NV Giall'Oro, Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore DOCG

This world-class Prosecco has intrigue and complexity in equal measure, and due to its versatile nature it is excellent at end of a meal, as an aperitif or as a dessert pairing. Sitting at the top of the Prosecco hierarchy, this is a natural fit for fine dining.

Code: 651661NV

2019 Prosecco DOC Rosé Treviso Argeo Brut

Argeo Prosecco Rosé has a soft pink colour reminiscent of peach flowers. Every sip is bursting with life, harmony and elegance. That fresh, delicious red fruit intensity makes it the perfect lighter alternative to Rosé Champagne and it is ideal for casual dining as it delivers both quality and value.

Code: J4466119

NV Bole Bianco Spumante Brut Romagna DOC

Bolé Spumante DOC is a toast to celebration, whether as an accompaniment to food, great music or great company. Brimming with green apples, pears and lemon zest, it's irresistibly on it's own but also a great partner for seafood. The gorgeous label design makes it leap off the shelf, so it's perfect for those carefully curated window displays.

France

What's happened in your regions this year, and what does that mean?

Like organic farming, biodynamics are becoming all the rage in major wine producing countries. Although biodynamic farming has met with some cynicism for its esoteric approach, it is now gaining more recognition in France particularly.

For instance, fine wine producers including Domaine de la Romanée Conti and other top Bordeaux growths have largely adopted biodynamic practices. Despite a low proportion of biodynamic certified estates (609 out of 76,000 in France), there is an increasing number of estates in conversion. What I am seeing in general is that green producers aren't necessarily motivated by being seen to be on-trend, but rather by improving quality and respecting the environment for future generations.

What's new in our range and why is that exciting?

Over the past couple of years, a great number of premium French agencies has been added to the E&C portfolio. All share a green approach in their winemaking philosophy.

In the dry and sunny Roussillon region, Domaine Cazes is unquestionably a biodynamic pioneer and is the largest organic and biodynamic certified estate in Europe. For Maison Joseph Drouhin in Burgundy, biodynamic farming contributes to define a pure and elegant aromatic expression in their wines.

Although it is more challenging to produce organic and biodynamic farmed wines in Bordeaux, some daring Châteaux owners such as Gonzague Lurton (Margaux 2nd Growth Château Durfort-Vivens) biodynamic motivation was based on quality. His wife Claire, owner of Pauillac 5th Growth, Château Haut-Bages Libéral, has also recently been certified biodynamic.

What are the three best-in-class wines in your region, and what channels are they best-suited to?

Ego Côtes du Roussillon Villages

A great GSM blend with vines planted on large rolled pebbled soil, one of Châteauneuf-du-Pape's main features. The only difference between Ego and a Châteauneuf-du-Pape is the price; a very good value wine marked by a cheerful blueberry fruit and a drying lick of spice underlined by elegant minerality. Great for customers wanting to indulge a little but keeping a keen eye on budgets after a tough year.

Code:G63861

Beaune 1er Cru Clos des Mouches Blanc, Joseph Drouhin

2021 celebrates the 100th anniversary of the Iconic Maison Joseph Drouhin Vineyard, Beaune Premier Cru Clos des Mouches. Organic and Biodynamic Farming since 1990's, this classic and elegant from the Côte de Beaune subregion reveals intense complexity similar to highly regarded Burgundy Grands Crus. I also highly recommend the red!

Code: H71661

Le Relais de Durfort-Vivens

The pure definition of aromas, this is a traditional elegant Margaux. Bordeaux can sometimes be seen as a cliché, but it is always nice to rediscover a good classic especially when it comes to good value Bordeaux from classified-growth estates. A good one for those looking for quality alternatives on their shelves.

What's happened in your regions this year, and what does that mean?

Looking after a diverse set of countries allows an interesting perspective on the world of wine. Some challenges are clearly being felt by everyone.

Take climate change. Germany is (for the moment) a beneficiary, enjoying a series of vintages yielding reliably ripe, bone-dry Rieslings. The quality of its Pinot Noir is also soaring and is now a force to be reckoned with. California has the opposite challenge. Warmer conditions accentuate the challenge of producing wines with both generous fruit and invigorating freshness.

Separately, the appreciation of indigenous grape varieties of countries such as Greece and Portugal is growing faster than ever, encouraged by unprecedented quality in the wines. One can taste the pride of the winemaker emanating from every glass of Xinomavro and Touriga Franca.

What's new in our range and why is that exciting?

This year we've added both depth and quality to our portfolio. Proving that the warm California sun can indeed produce wines of freshness and elegance, I am particularly thrilled to welcome the legendary Bonny Doon Vineyard. Founder and Rhône Ranger, Randall Graham, continues to show that Mediterranean grapes are perfect for the West Coast. The line-up includes a beautiful Vermentino-based blend, a crisp lower-alcohol Picpoul, and the latest incarnation of the iconic Le Cigare Volant.

Look out also for the newly added and superb Blauer Spätburgunder (that's Pinot Noir to you and me) from cult Pfalz estate Weingut Knipser. As low&no continues unabated, I am sure that the new alcohol-free rosé versions of Eins Zwei Zero from Leitz will be a sure-fire hit with your customers looking for both quality and sobriety.

What are the three best-in-class wines in your region, and what channels are they best-suited to?

Crasto White 2019, Quinta do Crasto

Every time I taste this wine, I am astonished that the Douro Valley is not taken more seriously as a great white wine region. Using native grape varieties grown in the Douro's higher altitude vineyards, this wine is crisp yet generous, easy-drinking and moreish, yet so satisfying. A perfect style and an ideal price point for customers looking to please the whole table without breaking the bank.

Code: 63746119

Eins Zwei Dry Riesling 2019, Weingut Leitz

Will the much-predicted German Riesling Renaissance ever happen? Hope springs eternal and perhaps this game-changing wine from our friends at Leitz will do the job of converting any doubters. The bottle stands out on the shelf of any independent retailer, playfully assuring customers that it is indeed dry, and showcasing how overtly charming Riesling can be. Maybe it will be an insider's wine no more.

Code: H7876119

Grande Reserve Red 2013, IXSIR (Lebanon)

When Hubert de Bouard of Château Angélus chose to assist in making fine wine in Lebanon he did not cut any corners. This incredible wine from the highest-altitude vineyards in the Northern hemisphere combines the deep, seductive style of great right-bank Bordeaux with the savoury, herbal complexity typical of Lebanon. It's an exceptional option for premium on-trade opportunities where a more 'classic' and mature equivalent would be double the price. A hand-sell, no doubt, but it will be a revelation for customers enjoying their first indulgent meal out after a difficult year.

Champagne & Sparkling

As we start a new decade, the popularity of fizz shows no sign of slowing and here at Enotria & Coe we continue to embrace this trend with delight, from sparkling to Champagne.

While the UK's love of Prosecco continues to flourish, Cava is also gaining the recognition it deserves.

Agency Champagne

Our carefully curated list of Champagne producers are those that we feel deserve a place on every list.

Each showcasing the terroir of the village from which they hail, our agency Champagnes are the result of individuality, style and craft. Our range spans from household names to the lesser known, emerging Champagne houses.

Gobillard

If you're after the true heart of Champagne, then look no further. The Gobillard family lives mere metres from the grave of Dom Pérignon, and following decades of hard work, have secured 26 hectares of vines, much of which is Premier Cru that was once owned by the Benedictine Hautvillers Abbey. A handful of carefully selected growers tend to a further 125 hectares nestled in the most prestigious crus, yielding a range of Champagnes that accentuate brightness, minerality and elegance over power and richness.

Jacquart

Housed in the opulent 19th century Hôtel de Brimont, on the Boulevard Lundy in Reims, Champagne Jacquart is kept in good company, with fellow Champagne producers Krug and Roederer among its neighbours. As well as enabling winemaker Floriane to pick the best fruit for wines such as their cuvée de prestige, Alpha, and the house’s benchmark Blanc de Blancs, the many growers and vineyards supplying Jacquart also guarantee consistency and quality for the core non-vintage cuvée, Brut Mosaïque.

Porte Noire by Idris Elba

Accomplished actor, writer, producer, rapper, singer, songwriter and DJ Idris Elba has most recently turned his hand to the world of drinks. So far, the Porte Noire brand encompasses a Provence rosé and a vintage Champagne; both in-demand and quality driven wine categories, but with a very personal touch from Idris. Both wines also have personal significance for Idris, as his first date with now-wife, Sabrina Dhowre, was to Champagne Sanger. Independently, the heritage and history of both these producers is undeniable. Champagne Sanger was born after World War I, when the couple that owned the land bequeathed it to the local government, on the condition that it would be used to train up-and-coming vigneron talent.

Ruinart

Way back in 1729, Nicolas Ruinart, a Reims draper like his father, started his first account ledger devoted to “wine with bubbles”. This ledger serves as the birth certificate for the first Champagne House ever created. Since its inception, Champagne Ruinart has taken pride in the excellence of its cuvees. Interestingly, the unique shape of its bottle pays tribute to the historic bottles of the eighteenth century.

Grande Marque Champagne

Krug

Krug may well be part of the Louis Vuitton-Moët Hennessy group, and incorporated into the Veuve Clicquot company; however, it is still a family run business. Since 1843, when the firm was established in Germany, Krug has been producing oak-fermented wines, a practice that adds complexity, finesse and richness. Long ageing on the yeast, strict selection of grapes, and a unique father-to-son winemaking tradition all help to create the quality that makes Krug so highly regarded.

Mumm

With a legacy dating back 170 years, Champagne G.H. Mumm has celebrated remarkable feats of endurance and human achievement. In 1875, the House began decorating its bottles with the Cordon Rouge as a tribute to the red ribbon of the Legion of Honour, France’s highest civilian distinction created by Napoleon I. This bold and emblematic red sash has now become synonymous with G.H. Mumm, and the extraordinary achievements it supports.

Perrier-Jouët

Ever vigilant to the changing tastes of its customer, Perrier-Jouët has a remarkable history of innovation. In 1854, it became the first-ever producer of dry Champagne, and they were the first House to release ‘millésimes’ or ‘vintage’ Champagne. A few years down the track, in 1858, it was also the first House to state the ‘cru,’ or village name, and the year of the harvest on the cork, and then on the label itself by the 1860s.

Laurent-Perrier

Situated in Tours-sur-Marne, just outside Reims, Laurent-Perrier is one of France’s most respected Grande Marque Champagnes. Their rosé is one of the rare Champagnes made exclusively from Pinot Noir, by the traditional method of leaving the must in contact with the skins long enough to impart a pale rose-petal colour to the wine.

Lanson

When Jean-Baptiste Lanson took the helm of the Champagne house, the company prospered and exports grew, particularly in Great Britain, where Lanson was awarded the Royal Warrant by Queen Victoria in 1900 - an honour it has retained to this day. Early on in the company’s history, the classically crisp house style was established when the family made the decision to vinify its wines without malolactic fermentation. This, combined with extended ageing in their cellars before release, contributes to what can best be described as beautifully complex and rewarding wines.

Louis Roederer

Made by one of the very last family-owned large houses with their own grapes, from 214 hectares of fully-owned vineyards, Roederer is arguably one of the most reliable non-vintage Champagnes of them all. Sparkling

Beyond the borders of Champagne, there’s a wealth of sparkling alternatives and we’re proud to offer an eclectic selection, with differing emphasis on fruitiness, bubble size, and methods of production.

As well as Prosecco and Cava, we’re also celebrating the burgeoning category of English fizz with an outstanding selection of home-grown wines, as well as some more unusual offerings from across the globe.

Burgundy

Veuve Ambal

The association of widows or ‘veuves’ and sparkling wine extends beyond Champagne, south into Burgundy where Veuve Ambal, the leading producer of Crémant de Bourgogne, is based. Marie Ambal married a Parisian banker and, when he died, returned to her home village of Rully in Côte Chalonnaise to continue her family involvement in wine. Today, Veuve Ambal has 230 hectares of vineyards in Burgundy and is one of the most pristine wineries in the region.

Sylvain Gaudron

The Gaudron family – fourth generation Gilles Gaudron is currently at the helm – have been making wine in Vouvray, Vernou since 1890, farming a 27-hectare vineyard, two-thirds of it with an average age of 30 years. The cellars date back to the 13th century, with 1km of galleries burrowed deep into the rock. These are classy wines, superb vehicles for Loire Chenin Blancs – all racily fresh with a fine, chalky minerality.

Chateau Léoube

Lord and Lady Bamford, a pioneering family driving positive sustainable change in the UK, acquired the 17th century Château in 1997, marking a new beginning for Léoube. The family vision was to bring their passion and their experience for sustainability and organics to fine winemaking. The responsibility of expanding the vineyards and improving quality has been given to Romain Ott, fourth generation winemaker of the Ott dynasty. A policy of zero use of pesticides and chemicals is crucial to preserving biodiversity and therefore taking care of wildlife, leading to a strengthened and stable ecosystem. Certified Organic, the Léoube estate is an entirely protected environment where natural wet areas support and develop biodiversity. All the waste materials are carefully recycled or upcycled.

Terre di Sant’Alberto

Terre di Sant’Alberto consists of ten hectares of manually worked hillside vineyards in the heart of Valdobbiadene, overlooked by a small chapel dedicated to Saint Albert. One of the peculiarities of this chapel is that it used to house a “Sator Square” i.e. an ancient plaque on the wall with the Latin inscription:

O P E R A
R O T A S

This can be read backwards, rotated, and upside down, which is handy, because it is also printed just above the front labels. Nobody really knows what it means, but it is probably an early-Christian symbol relating to ploughing and farming, God and nature, which will probably make a lot of sense once you have finished the bottle.

Contratto

The Contratto cellars were carved into the limestone underneath the winery and the vineyards in the 1860s. The labyrinthine cellars are now recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage site, while the winery is famous as a pioneer of non-Champagne sparkling wines. Their Moscato and Asti sparkling wines, made in the Champagne method, were incredibly popular worldwide at the beginning of the 20th century. These historic export agreements are the reason behind the “For England” label on the Blanc de Noir Pas Dosé to this day.

Since the Rivetti family bought Contratto in 2011, they have employed their signature elan to take Contratto to new heights. They have invested in new vineyards, particularly focusing on high altitude plantings of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay.

Fontanafredda

Fontanafredda’s history is peppered with tales of intrigue surrounding the Italian Royal family, but it is in the sympathetic hands of Oscar Farinetti, founder of the Eataly chain of Slow Food restaurants, that the winery has found its true fame. Under Farinetti, Fontanafredda’s revival looks assured and this sleeping beauty of the Langhe – its vineyards are among the finest in the area – is now on a clear upward trajectory. In Planeta’s early years, expertise came from a surprising source: Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to captured the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily’s grapes in their wines. The early success of their Chardonnay - which now boasts a cult following - gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world’s eyes to the charms of Sicily’s indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Grecanico and Nero d’Avola as it does to the winery’s signature Chardonnay.

Gramona

Gramona leads the pack in terms of premium Cava production. Combining six generations of accrued family experience, Gramona represents integrity at every point in the production process. From indigenous grapes and biodynamic viticulture, to extended lees ageing a minimum ageing period of 30 months, Gramona is uncompromising in its commitment to excellence.

This painstaking attention to detail has earned Gramona consistently high praise and scores from pundits, including a Platinum award in the 2020 Decanter World Wine Awards. Perhaps more impressively, Gramona is the only sparkling winemaker ever to win the overall top spot in Spain’s prestigious La Guia Peñin wine guide.

Cava

Pere Ventura

Pere Ventura’s prestigious Cava house was established in 1992, but draws on a sparkling wine heritage that extends deep into the past. In fact, it was Pere’s great-grandfather who was responsible for the first Cava ever made by the classical method used in Champagne, and his grandfather and father continued to hone their technique in producing Cavas of distinction and poise.

Catalunya

Franck Massard

Crowned with the impressive title of the UK’s best sommelier in 1996, Frenchman Franck Massard has quickly forged an even more illustrious reputation as a winemaker. After falling in love with Catalunya – and Priorat in particular – he took the leap and branched out on his own. His are wines of character which have a story to tell, sourced from vineyards that often endure extremes of altitude, steep slopes and marginal growing conditions.

Vins Petxina - Celler 9+

Moisès Virgili inherited vines that had been tended by his family for several generations. After studying oenology and working as a consultant for various other wineries, Moisès decided to set up a cellar in the garage of his own house. Today, he has three full-time employees, and casual workers for in the vineyard. The old vines are found in tiny parcels, which are tended with care and humility, drawing on Moisès’ memories in the vineyards helping his father.

Galicia

Mar de Frades

Meaning ‘Sea of the Friars’ in Galician, Mar de Frades lies in the Arousa estuary, overlooking the Atlantic ocean. Proximity to cooling ocean breezes creates the characteristic freshness and aromatic intensity of the wines produced here, and the location is also reflected in the design of the winery; created to resemble a sailboat. Innovation is key at Mar de Frades, and their iconic blue bottle is designed to symbolise the modernity of Atlantic wines.

Hattingley Valley

A family-owned business in the heart of Hampshire, Hattingley Valley have been winning international acclaim and awards ever since their first vintage in 2013. Their English wine project began in 2008 and has developed into a custom-built, eco-friendly winery, farming some 24 hectares of vines across two separate sites. The first winery in the UK to adopt solar power, Hattingley Valley is recognised as a top estate abroad, and looks to be gaining just as much recognition across its native land.

The story of Santa Ana is defined by constant evolution and development, from the winery’s foundation by Italian émigré and winemaking pioneer Luis Tirasso in 1891, to the company’s leadership in the Argentinian market in the late 1970s, and its exploration of overseas destinations in the years since. Today, its wines are sold in more than 50 countries around the world, and the secret of Santa Ana’s success lies firmly in the vineyards. France

As the global landscape of wine grows more diverse and competitive by the day, France continues to evolve and develop as an undisputed producer of some of the world's greatest wines.

With international demand for Bordeaux and Burgundy showing no sign of diminishing, sourcing value in these regions becomes increasingly complex, but it's a treasure hunt that we relish.

Estates from the Loire, Alsace and along the length of the Rhône also feature heavily, alongside an intriguing selection of producers in the sun-hued south-west, and clustered around the sparkling Mediterranean.

Alsace

Sheltered by the densely forested Vosges Mountains, Alsace is celebrated for its aromatic white wines.

Unlike Germany, the winemaking philosophy here is to ferment all the grape sugar into alcohol, resulting in dry, full-bodied wines. There is no better expression of this than the wines from the world-renowned Trimbach.

Alsace

Trimbach

Even after 13 generations, the Trimbachs remain true to the philosophy handed down to them by their 19th century ancestor, Frédéric Emile. This means wines made to a bone-dry template, strong on structure, longevity and fruit, with unparalleled elegance, balance and food-friendly versatility. Trimbach offers a pure reflection of the sun-warmed, limestone-dominated vineyards surrounding Ribeauvillé, the medieval town the family has called home for nearly a century.

Domaine Bernard Defaix

After speaking to Didier and Hélène Defaix for just five minutes, you start to realise what makes their wines so special. Not only do they have holdings in some of Chablis’ best-situated vineyards, their attention to detail in vine growing and winemaking is astounding. Their focus has been on taking care of the vineyard through improving soil structure, biological pest control and painstaking vegetation management; their cellar work is similarly precise. All this enables the potential of each ‘terroir’ to fully express itself through fine, powerful and distinguished wines, which have a succulence of texture married to serious intensity of flavour that makes them delicious young, yet also capable of considerable cellaring.

Château de la Maltroye

By Burgundian standards the Château de la Maltroye is a baby. The superb 18th century château with its 15th century cellars was purchased by the Cournut family in 1940. Current owner and winemaker, Jean- Pierre Cournut, is an inimitable host and remains restlessly involved with the domaine, which today covers around 15 hectares – large for a private domaine, but useful, Jean-Pierre points out, in handling the shift in fashion for planting Pinot Noir in the area.

Domaine Alain Chavy

A decade ago, brothers Alain and Jean-Louis Chavy split their family estate (Domaine Gérard Chavy) down the middle, with each brother receiving 6.5 hectares of prime Puligny-Montrachet vineyard. Alain has proved himself a very skillful winemaker, producing elegant and very stylish Puligny-Montrachets in a cellar beneath his property in the heart of the village of Puligny.

Domaine Gilles Bouton

Gilles Bouton excels in producing white Burgundy of elegance and a real sense of place, at particularly reasonable prices. Gilles inherited less than four hectares from his grandfather in 1977 and has expanded to eight since then, renting and cultivating an additional six. The total area is divided into over 70 vineyard plots: an example of the extremely fragmented vineyard ownership that occurs in Burgundy.

Domaine Jean-Michel Gaunoux

Jean-Michel Gaunoux has brought an extraordinary energy and zealous enthusiasm to the seven-hectare estate he took over in 1990. Focused around Meursault, he also owns vineyards in Puligny, Volnay and Pommard. Jean-Michel’s Meursaults are classically rich and opulent, with fresh balancing acidity. Jean-Michel is one of our few suppliers to keep back a proportion of his production every year in order to be able to offer older vintages when the wines are fully mature.

Crémant de Bourgogne

Veuve Ambal

The association of widows or ‘veuves’ and sparkling wine extends beyond Champagne, south into Burgundy where Veuve Ambal, the leading producer of Crémant de Bourgogne, is established. Marie Ambal married a Parisian banker and, when he died, returned to her home village of Rully in Côte Chalonnaise and to pursue her family involvement in wine. Today, Veuve Ambal has 230 hectares of vineyards in Burgundy and is one of the most pristine wineries in the region.

Côte Chalonnaise

Domaine Michel Juillot

Mercurey and the Côte Chalonnaise run through the veins of the Juillot family, whose domaine of more than 30 hectares is one of the most respected in the area – praised for wines that champion fruit and fresh elegance over exoticism and extraction. There’s evidence that the Juillots were tilling the vineyards of Mercurey as long ago as 1404, and Louis Juillot – great-grandfather of current manager Laurent – planted the first vines after the phylloxera catastrophe.

Domaine Saumaize-Michelin

Domaine Saumaize-Michelin is located at the foot of the dramatic Roche de Vergisson, seven kilometres west of the town of Macon. Owners Roger and Christine Saumaize took on the domaine in 1978, and have been dedicated to caring for the health of the soil and vines ever since. A faithful practice of organic viticulture, followed for 20 years, has combined perfectly with their attention to detail to result in beautiful wines, faithful to their origin.

Domaine Ferret

In 1840, the Ferret family established this 18-hectare estate, which is located at the heart of the most famous ‘climats’ of the Fuissé amphitheatre. Renowned for ‘parcel by parcel’ vinification pioneered by Madame Ferret, today this tradition is carried on by winemaker Audrey Baccini. At Domaine Ferret, they are driven by the belief that in order to make a great wine, one needs, above all, to respect one’s heritage. Add to this a tailor-made approach to viticulture, and you’ve got a collection of truly sublime, complex wines.

Vignerons des Terres Secrètes

Vignerons des Terres Secrètes, or ‘winegrowers from the Secret Lands,’ is a group of producers from southern Burgundy. Located in the Mâconnais, they produce excellent wines from the best terroirs of the rolling, sun-washed landscape of the Mâconnais region. Vignerons des Terres Secrètes are certified ‘Vignerons engages,’ which is a French sustainable wine growing certification governed by the following guidelines: protection of the environment; a recycling scheme; a quality traceability scheme from the vine to the glass; and ensuring producers are paid fairly. ‘Vignerons Engages’ also supports local initiatives including the refurbishment of old buildings, to protect the region’s history and legacy.

Beaujolais

One of the few winemaking regions in the world to focus on a single grape variety, the vineyards in Beaujolais are planted almost entirely with Gamay, the grape from which Beaujolais’s signature style is produced.

With light, vibrant and fruity reds combining refreshing acidity, fruit-driven flavours and low tannins, Beaujolais offers a vast contrast to the heavy, tannic styles of the surrounding regions. Propelling Beaujolais into public awareness and popularity, the region is also home to the now famed Beaujolais Nouveau; a tradition that offers an early-release style bottled a mere 6-8 weeks after harvest and with no ageing at all.

Beaujolais

Domaine Chermette

Pierre and Martine Chermette are producers of serious Beaujolais. They avoid the ubiquitous use of cultured yeasts and chaptalisation, believing that character comes from ripe grapes and local yeasts. Consequently, the wines are a revelation, showing what the Gamay grape is truly capable of when handled with respect. All the wines from this excellent estate are bottled without filtration.

Bordeaux

A region producing more fine wine than any other, Bordeaux is renowned for some of the world’s most sought-after bottles; offering white and dessert wines as well as reds.

From the sun-drenched terraces of medieval Saint-Émilion to the glacial gravel of Médoc, Bordeaux encompasses a multitude of terroirs and microclimates, and this is reflected in the region’s vast array of wine styles.

Bordeaux

Lucien Lurton

François Lurton is part of the famous Bordeaux classified growth owners family. Son of André Lurton (Château La Louvière), François represents the 5th generation of Bordeaux’s Lurton family, and with a very entrepreneurial spirit was one of the first to make wines outside of Bordeaux. Today he owns and runs five different estates across the world: Languedoc-Roussillon with Mas Janeil, Spain, Portugal, Chile and Argentina, François Lurton has a unique perspective on the world of winemaking with his brand Fumées Blanches, an exceptional range of French varietal wines.

Entre-Deux-Mers & Bordeaux

Château Sainte-Marie

Sainte-Marie owner Stéphane Dupuch’s determination and superb results stand out against the ocean of indifferent Entre-Deux-Mers whites and Bordeaux Supérieur reds that are produced in the region. Since the property has been in Stéphane’s hands, he and his wife have raised the standards enormously. In a region of varied soils, the focus is to plant vine varieties in the places that will bring out the best qualities in their fruit, fully allowing the grapes to express the inherent, subtle qualities of their terroir.

The prevailing pioneer spirit led the property to create its own conservatory of grape varieties. In 1996, the team undertook a veritable cultural revolution by embarking on the study of biodiversity, and in 2011 Château Guiraud became the First Grand Cru Classé in 1855 to be awarded Organic Agriculture certification.

Graves

Château des Gravières

A small château in the Graves appellation of Bordeaux, Merlot-dominated where usually Cabernet Sauvignon is king, Château des Gravières makes wines that satisfy both the palate and the pocket. The Labuzan family, who continue to own and run the winery today, with brothers Thierry and Denis at the helm, are part of a long line of wine specialists, their first Labuzan vines being planted as far back as 1847. Today, despite a continued focus on Merlot, the winery has expanded into growing Cabernet Sauvignon, Sémillon and Sauvignon Blanc varietals.

Margaux

Château d’Issan

Château d’Issan - Margaux Third Growth from the 1855 Bordeaux classification - is reported to have been served at the marriage of Eleanor d’Aquitaine and Henry Plantagenet during the Middle Ages. There are records of Château d’Issan being kept in the cellars of The Prince of Wales during the 18th Century, and in the late 19th Century the Emperor Franz-Joseph of Austria thought so highly of this wine that he regularly served it at court. The Château’s motto is “For the Tables of Kings and the Altars of Gods” – if you are looking for a claret with pedigree, you can’t go far wrong with this timeless classic.

Château Talbot

This important estate owes its name to Constable Talbot, an English warrior defeated at the battle of Castillon in 1453. Cloaking the banks of the estuary of the Gironde, the estate vineyard extends over the famous outcrops sculpted in ancient quaternary gravels, the only conditions in which such truly fine wines come into being, in the area of St-Julien.

Pauillac

Château Grand-Puy Ducasse

Château Grand-Puy Ducasse is a Pauillac Fifth Growth from the 1855 Bordeaux classification. Until 1750, Grand Puy meant a low, gravel hill with one single property. However, in the mid XVIII century, Pierre Ducasse bought a part of the Grand Puy vineyard in Pauillac, which was then divided into 2 vineyards: Grand Puy Ducasse and Grand Puy Lacoste. Today, the Château Grand-Puy Ducasse vineyard is 40 hectares, divided between three main plots within the Pauillac appellation which neighbours first growth Pauillac estates. Planted in the sandy Garonne gravel, the vines have an average age of 25 years, with 62% of them Cabernet Sauvignon and 38% Merlot.

Château Phélan Ségur, in the iconic Bordeaux Saint-Estèphe appellation, had an origin a little different to the majority of French Châteaux; it was established by Bernard O’Phelan, a young Irish wine merchant, in the 19th century. Four families and two centuries of winemaking passion later, Château Phélan Ségur has created an identity based on elegance and finesse. Ancestral know-how, authenticity and ultimate respect of traditions are of the most importance to the team, who continue to craft quality wines today, within what they perceive as a ‘living heritage.’

Saint-Émilion

Château La Gaffelière

Owned by the same family since 1705, Château La Gaffelière belongs to the Malet Roquefort family for several generations. This property has the unique distinction of being one of the oldest, family-owned vineyards in the Saint-Émilion appellation of Bordeaux. The family can trace their roots in the Right Bank all the way back to the 1400’s. With vines on the premium Saint-Émilion Grand Cru plateau close to Château Ausone and not far from Château Bélair-Monange, this 22-hectare property classified as a Premier Grand Cru Classé is located in the centre of the Saint- Émilion appellation benefiting from a more continental climate compared to the maritime Médoc. La Gaffelière vineyards (Cabernet Sauvignon 5%, Merlot 65%, Cabernet Franc 30%) lie on a sloped sandy/clay-limestone topsoil and limestone subsoil. The family also produces Dame Gaffelière (Second Wine) from their younger vines and Château l’Eglise D’Armens (Third Wine) a more approachable Saint-Émilion Grand Cru.

Château Rol Valentin

Château Rol Valentin is a newcomer to the Bordeaux wine scene, emerging as one of the new ‘garagiste’ styles that have sprung into the French wine world in the past ten years. Established in 1994 by Eric Prisette, a retired professional footballer, the winery produces only miniscule quantities of high quality wine, characterised by deep colours, intense concentrated and ripe fruits, with strong hints of new wood. The winery spans just five hectares of vineyards, located on the north-western part of Saint-Emilion’s plateau.

Located in Saint Sulpice de Faleyrens – near Saint Emilion, Château Gros Caillou belongs to Dupuy Family for four generations. A family estate known for its terroir, tradition and quality.

The vineyard area remained the same for 2 generations, 11 hectares. However, when Jacques Dupuy took over in 1981, Château Gros Caillou expanded to a further 9 hectares on the best part of the appellation. Today, with his son Eric, both manage Château Gros Caillou and have significantly improved the winery through their passion and efforts.

Pomerol

Château La Ganne

Château La Ganne is a 4-hectare family estate located in the south west of Pomerol appellation, owned for four generations by the Dubois family. Vineyard is made of gravel and sandy deposits with a subsoil rich in iron also called “crasse de fer” revealing velvety tannins and its delicate aromas. Nowadays, Paule and Michel Dubois work hard to pre-serve their legacy. With its 750 hectares, Pomerol is considered to be one of the smallest appellations in Bordeaux’s Right Bank but is considered a be one of the most famous in terms of quality.

Vignobles Dubard

The Dubard family owns several properties both on the right bank of Bordeaux (Lalande de Pomerol, Puisseguin-Saint-Emilion) and the south-west wine region. The secret of the Dubard success story? Fresh wines with great purity of fruit, including a Sauvignon Blanc that can give more hallowed names a run for their money, a Montravel of great leesy complexity and a supple, fragrant Merlot made in a way that lets the fruit sing.

Loire

One of the great unsung wine regions of the world, the Loire Valley produces a superb variety of wines from Touraine to Vouvray and from Chinon to Menetou-Salon, ranging from intensely dry, still and sparkling wines to some of the world’s most luscious sweet wines.

Loire

Domaine Laporte

Domaine Laporte is one of the most highly respected estates in the Loire Valley, comprised of more than 74 acres of vineyards in Pouilly-Fumé and Sancerre. Their flagship Sancerre comes from one of the finest vineyards in the appellation, Domaine du Rochoy, a 25-acre monopole vineyard carved out of the flint hillside overlooking the Loire River. As a certified organic producer, Domaine Laporte makes their wines in a very traditional and natural way, ensuring a sense of purity and excellence in the finished product.

Sancerre

Cave de Sancerre

Located at the heart of France’s Loire region, Caves de Sancerre pride themselves on being champions of the flagship Loire Valley wine, Sancerre. Their vineyards stretch across 15 communes, covering a vast diversity of villages, each with their own individual soil type – the primary trio being comprised of ‘terres blanches’ (white earth), ‘caillottes’ (little stones), and siliceous clay. The range of flavours achieved by utilising grapes from these separate terroirs ensure that Caves de Sancerre are responsible for some of the best blends in the region.

Pouilly-Fumé

Alain Cailbourdin

Few illustrate the influence of ‘terroir’ more effectively than Alain Cailbourdin. This is achieved through a policy of short pruning, low yields, gentle pressing and controlled fermentations using indigenous yeasts, which results in wines of concentration, purity and intensity. The Cuvée de Boisfleury, from chalk vineyards with sand topsoil, is the most aromatic and immediate of his wines. ‘Triptyque’ is marvellous: made in 50% oak from 70-year-old vines, it balances Loire freshness with complexity.

Château Favray

The well-established vineyards of Château Favray sit in an enviable position, south-facing, sun-filled and with a hillside location high above the Nohain river. This is quintessential Pouilly in a fresh, open and relatively fruit-forward style, helped by the presence of heat-reflective pebbles in the limestone soil. And yet, as recently as the beginning of the 1980s, this was farmland – until its potential became obvious to Quentin David when he inherited the land, converting it to 15 hectares of some of the finest Sauvignon Blanc territory to be found anywhere.

Touraine

Lionel Gosseaume

If wine is in the blood, it seems you just can’t fight it. Lionel Gosseaume resisted until the age of 37, before giving in to the inevitable and taking on this small estate on the Touraine/Sologne border, between the Loire and its tributary, the Cher. Named after Lionel’s father, Domaine de Pierre’s vineyards date back to the late 19th century, the wines they produce having risen far above and beyond the Touraine norm.

Les Vignerons des Côteaux Romanais

Since 1957, this cooperative representing 20 growers has combined traditional practices with modern techniques to great effect. Muscadet

Jérémie Huchet

Sustainability and respect for terroir lie at the heart of Jérémie Huchet’s winemaking practices. The winery spans four noted terroirs, each with individual traits that result in wines that are vastly different in some ways, but uniform in their level of quality. The whole winery has followed sustainable practices since 2001, and is well on its way to achieving organic certification; all the grapes produced are harvested from vines that have been entirely cultivated, ploughed and harvested through natural methods.

There can be no doubt that l’Écume is a champion of its appellation. Wines from the estate retain a strong loyalty to traditional production methods, and are crafted expertly from grapes grown on the left bank of the Loire, just upstream from Nantes. Here, volcanic rock combines with light, stony soil and good sun exposure to produce wonderfully alkaline and aromatic wines, characterised by a zesty freshness that have secured l’Écume’s reputation throughout France.

Pithon-Paillé

A newcomer to the Loire, this is a family winery which was created in 2008 by Jo Pithon and his stepson, Joseph Paillé. The pair own a 13-hectare estate which is organically farmed and the wines are fermented using only natural yeasts. The wines are then aged for at least 10 months in French oak, allowing for micro-oxygenation.

Pierre Sourdais has built a reputation for the consistently high quality of his Chinon. With a plethora of different soil types on his 25-hectare property from which to choose his fruit, Pierre is able to produce wines of great character year in, year out. Sylvain Gaudron

The Gaudron family – fourth generation Gilles Gaudron is currently at the helm – have been making wine in Vouvray, Vernou since 1890, farming a 27-hectare vineyard, two-thirds of it with an average age of 30 years. The cellars date back to the 13th century, with 1km of galleries burrowed deep into the rock. Rhône

The birthplace of Syrah, with the first cultivated vines in the region planted around 600 BC, the Rhône’s strength lies in the broad spectrum of choice and value on offer.

From Côtes du Rhône and Côtes du Ventoux at one end, to the twin summits of Châteauneuf-du-Pape and Côte-Rôtie at the other, the Rhône provides enviable variety and wines to suit any list at any price point.

Northern Rhône

Domaine Yves Cuilleron

Having trained as a mechanic, Yves got bitten by the wine bug in the 1980s. So when his uncle retired in 1987, Yves jumped at the chance to run the family estate. At the time, Condrieu was relatively unknown, and Yves’ perfectionist approach from vine-planting to wine bottling resulted in wines that were to grab the attention of both consumers and critics – making them hugely in-demand, and raising the profile of the appellation as a whole.

Before 1990 all the grapes from Combier’s 13 hectares of vineyards were consigned to the local cooperative. However, when son Laurent Combier returned from oenology school, imbued with a vision of the heights that could be achieved with the estate’s grapes, the family built a winery and began making its own wine. Today, the estate covers 19 hectares and the wines are considered amongst the very best of the appellation. All the wines from Combier are made from organically-grown grapes.

Domaine Gilles Robin

Gilles took over the running of this estate in 1996. With a history of winegrowing spanning four generations, his aim was to realise the potential of the then 25-year-old vines (45 years old in 2016). Using only natural fertilisers and reduced yields, he was able to develop a richer concentration of fruit and quality. A new winery was built into the ground to allow the wines to be moved delicately by gravity. Gilles’ first vintage was so good that he won a gold medal at the Mâcon Fair, and his reputation has grown ever since, with accolades from industry heavyweights Decanter, Wine International, Robert Parker and Wine Spectator, just to name a few.

More than 40 years after Aimé Sabon established Janasse at Courthézon, this iconoclastic young Turk of yesteryear is now established as one of the southern Rhône’s finest wine estates, spanning some 80 hectares of vineyards. Now under the control of Christophe Sabon and his sister Isabelle, Janasse’s much lauded Châteauneuf-du-Papes are a quintessentially modern interpretation of the vineyard’s superlative raw material: deep colour, excellent fruit, supple tannins and extraordinary richness.

Domaine Chante Cigale

Domaine Chante Cigale is situated on the left bank of the Rhône, between Orange and Sorgues, on a variety of soils which contain a high proportion of ‘galets.’ These are the large stones of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, which heat up during the day and release their heat at night, allowing the grapes to achieve maximum ripeness. The red is powerful, with defined fruit characters and supple tannins. The white is fresh and attractive and an interesting alternative to ubiquitous Chardonnay.

Cellier des Princes is a cooperative of 240 growers, founded in 1924. Under the guidance of oenologist Phillipe Cambie, it now enjoys a reputation as Châteauneuf-du-Pape’s leading cooperative. For the duration of their contract, growers must have to dedicate 100% of their crop to the cooperative. Grapes from individual growers are assessed and compared for ripeness and sugar levels before vinification, which takes place in temperature-controlled, stainless-steel tanks. Wines are aged in cement tanks.

Domaine Brusset

The broken crags of Les Dentelles de Montmirail form a dramatic, gap-toothed backdrop to some of the finest vineyards of Gigondas. Steeply terraced, low-yielding and back-breaking to work, they simply wouldn’t be worth cultivating if they didn’t produce great wine. Thankfully, in cuvées such as Laurent Brusset’s Le Grand Montmirail and Les Hauts de Montmirail, these south-facing terraces prove all that trouble worthwhile. The presence of a decent amount of Mourvèdre in the Brusset vineyards also gives an understated power and backbone that goes beyond typical Gigondas.

Maison Sinnæ

Sinnæ is the new brand identity of Laudun-Chusclan, which are two villages in the Southern Rhône, on the right bank of the Rhône river and close to Châteauneuf-du- Pape. With close to 250 growers, many of whom are young with a modern approach, they are also proud of their winemaking history, with winemaking dating back to Roman times. After a 12-year partnership, Laudun Chusclan is now one. They chose to pay tribute to their history by naming their collaboration Sinnæ. During the Roman Empire, the villages of Laudun and Chusclan belonged to the Romans and the site today is an archaeological site called Caesars’ Camp, where Julius Cesar fell in love with the Goddess Cornelia Sinnæ. In ode to this passionate relationship between both Romans. Sinnæ is also certified ‘Vignerons engages,’ which is a French sustainable wine growing certification including the following guidelines: protection of the environment; a recycling scheme; a quality traceability scheme from the vine to the glass; ensuring producers are paid fairly; and support for local initiatives.

Provence

Previously overlooked for its reputation as a producer of underwhelming wines, today Provence continues to position itself at the helm of modern thinking and experimentation as the pioneer of dry, mineral-driven rosés with a characteristically light pink tint.

Boasting a winemaking history of over 2,600 years, Provence is the oldest wine-producing region in France and the only place in the world with a research institute dedicated solely to the production of rosé and the improvement of the style which has made it so famous.

Château Léoube

Lord and Lady Bamford, a pioneering family driving positive sustainable change in the UK, acquired the 17th century Château in 1997, marking a new beginning for Léoube. The family vision was to bring their passion and their experience for sustainability and organics to fine winemaking. The responsibility of expanding the vineyards and improving quality has been given to Romain Ott, fourth generation winemaker of the Ott dynasty. A policy of zero use of pesticides and chemicals is crucial to preserving biodiversity and therefore taking care of wildlife, leading to a strengthened and stable ecosystem. Certified Organic, the Léoube estate is an entirely protected environment where natural wet areas support and develop biodiversity. All the waste materials are carefully recycled or upcycled.

Côtes de Provence

Château Sainte Marguerite

The amiable and very talented Jean-Pierre Fayard has built up one of Côtes de Provence’s most dynamic and well-respected estates. He now owns 91 hectares of prime vineyard around the village of La Londe, much of which is Cru Classé rated, and all of which he tends using organic viticulture. The elegant, food-friendly rosés are made predominantly from Grenache, with differing proportions of Cinsault, Mourvèdre and Syrah. Château Sainte Marguerite wines are notably respected for their freshness and maritime influence due to the La Londe terroir facing the Mediterranean Sea.

Château Gassier

A specialist producer of Côtes de Provence rosé wines, Château Gassier is nestled in 40 hectares of vineyards at the foot of the Sainte Victoire mountain, occupying a privileged position at the meeting point of three Provence appellations. Syrah, Cinsault and Grenache are blended to produce classic and refreshing Provençal wines of outstanding quality, stemming from years of passion and hard work. The estate has been certified organic since 2016, with all efforts made to ensure Gassier wines express the subtlety and purity of their terroir.

Porte Noire by Idris Elba

Accomplished actor, writer, producer, rapper, singer, songwriter and DJ Idris Elba has most recently turned his hand to the world of drinks. So far, the Porte Noire brand encompasses a Provence rosé and a vintage Champagne; both in-demand and quality driven wine categories, but with a very personal touch from Idris. He works in conjunction with Champagne Sanger and Château Ste Marguerite for unbeatable quality and heritage. Both wines also have personal significance for Idris, as his first date with now-wife, Sabrina Dhowre, was to Champagne Sanger, and the wine poured at their wedding was none other than Château Ste Marguerite.

Independently, the heritage and history of both these producers is undeniable. Champagne Sanger was born after World War I, when the couple that owned the land bequeathed it to the local government, on the condition that it would be used to train up-and-coming vigneron talent. Château Ste Marguerite features in the E&C portfolio.

Domaine Cazes

Emblematic French fortified wine estate Domaine Cazes is by far one of the most respected estates in Southern France. Founded by Michel Cazes in 1895, Domaine Cazes is located in Rivesaltes, in the heart of the Roussillon region - “The French Catalunya” - between the Pyrenees Mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. In 1997, 4th generation winemaker Emmanuel Cazes took over the estate from his father and initiated the organic and biodynamic conversion of all vineyards. Today, Domaine Cazes produces not only fortified wines such as Muscat de Rivesaltes, but has also acquired vineyards in different Roussillon appellations, including the recently created Clos des Paulilles in Collioure and Banyuls. Domaine Cazes is Europe’s largest organic and biodynamic certified wine estate.

François Lurton

François Lurton is part of the famous Bordeaux classified growth owners family. Son of André Lurton (Château La Louvière), François represents the 5th generation of Bordeaux’s Lurton family, and with a very entrepreneurial spirit was one of the first to make wines outside of Bordeaux. Today he owns and runs five different estates across the world: Languedoc-Roussillon with Mas Janeil, Spain, Portugal, Chile and Argentina, François Lurton has a unique perspective on the world of winemaking with his brand Fumées Blanches, an exceptional range of French varietal wines.

Aubert et Mathieu

Aubert & Mathieu is the story of two friends, Anthony Aubert and Jean-Charles Mathieu, who met at school. A few years later, they met up for a drink: Anthony was already in the wine trade and Jean-Charles was in corporate banking. Realising they shared an ambition to make wines their own way, in 2016, they launched Aubert & Mathieu. The first vintage was released in March 2019 and very successful on Paris’ trendy restaurant scene. The Aubert et Mathieu identity is based on producing niche wines from the best terroirs of Languedoc-Roussillon while highlighting the nuances and singularities of each appellation. The DNA of their wines show the perfect mastery of freshness, balance and the search for complexity. Inspiration, carefree and a little fantasy led them on their way! Aubert et Mathieu is also completely carbon neutral.

Picpoul de Pinet

Château Morin Langaran

The Morin family have been established winemakers for well over fifty years, but the Langaran estate where they craft their wines is a little older than that. Located near the Bassin de Thau, its existence can be dated back to 1330, when it belonged to the Order of the Knights of the Holy Spirit. After passing through many hands, it was where the Morin family started their winemaking prowess in 1966, and today is the base of production for a fantastic range of Vins de Pays and IGP Pays d’Oc wines.

Cave de L’Ormarine

The white Picpoul variety is grown throughout southern France, but has gained a particularly strong reputation for quality in one specific area in the Languedoc – Pinet. This small appellation is situated halfway between Béziers and Montpellier, the vine’s tolerance to sandy soils making it a popular variety for the area’s coastal vineyards. Picpoul translates as ‘lip-stinger’, a name which gives a clue to the lip-smacking high acidity of this variety – the fresh, crisp wines produced from the grape are an ideal accompaniment for the oysters sourced from nearby Étang de Thau.

Corbières

Château du Vieux Parc

The Cuvée Tradition Corbières has a lovely blend of dark ripe fruits with a supple, ripe tannin structure, and a reassuringly traditional château label, making it a brilliantly fruit-driven but nevertheless food-friendly wine. We recently added the Vin de Pays ‘Les Amandiers’ (meaning almond trees) to the range. This blend of Merlot, Grenache and Syrah may not be varietally labelled but more than makes up for this with moreish spun-sugar Grenache richness allied with a ripe Merlot body, Syrah structure and unbeatable value.

Moving from sound engineering to winemaking, Jean Panis did not rest on his laurels when taking over his father’s estate of 45 hectares in Minervois in 1996. His first vintage won the highest award in the French wine guide, Guide Hachette. Continuing with his achievements, Robert Parker has also awarded the wines high scores, justifiable praise for wines that combine ripeness and suppleness with real Southern French character.

La Lande

La Lande provides an impressive but affordable range; one of the best value ranges in our list. The white, from the relatively cool climate of the Comté Tolosan, is crisp and aromatic and is made from Colombard, one of the most successful varieties planted in the region. The red, made from a blend of Carignan and Grenache, is sourced from the warmer ‘Hérault’ region and is round and plummy with an attractive soft finish. Finally, the Cinsault rosé is fresh, light and eminently quaffable.

Italy

Founded in 1972 as a specialist Italian wine importer with just a handful of passionate suppliers, this is where it all began for Enotria.

In 2021, we continue to honour this heritage with an outstanding selection of wines sourced from all corners of the country. Italy offers great diversity of indigenous grape varieties and a long-standing tradition of winemaking, with our range from this complex country remaining enviable and extensive, providing the historic pedigree of Piemonte and Veneto, down through Tuscany and central Italy, to the thrill of the south. The classics of Chianti and Barolo have strong representation here, and are joined by distinctive wines from Sicily, Calabria and the Marche.

Veneto & North East

The climate and soils of this area mean that there is a notable bias towards white wines however the output is still vastly diverse.

Alongside Soave and Valpolicella, Pinot Grigio and the ever-popular Prosecco also hail from this region.

Valdobbiadene

Ruggeri

As Prosecco continues to enjoy its time in the sun with UK consumers, seeking out an authentic expression of this crowd-pleasing sparkling wine becomes all the more important – and ever more difficult. This is where Ruggeri enters the picture. Established by Giustino Bisol in 1950 and now run by his son, Paolo, and grandchildren Giustino and Isabella, this winery’s collection of Proseccos – many bottled as top quality Prosecco di Valdobbiadene D.O.C.G. – are some of the finest examples coming out of the region. .

Valdobbiadene

Terre di Sant’Alberto

Terre di Sant’Alberto consists of ten hectares of manually worked hillside vineyard in the heart of Valdobbiadene, overlooked by a small chapel dedicated to Saint Albert. One of the peculiarities of this chapel is that it used to house a “Sator Square” i.e. an ancient plaque on the wall with the Latin inscription:

O P E R A
R O T A S

This can be read backwards, rotated, and upside down, which is handy, because it is also printed just above the front labels. Nobody really knows what it means, but it is probably an early-Christian symbol relating to ploughing and farming, God and nature, which will probably make a lot of sense once you have finished the bottle.

Vinicola Serena

Made from Glera, this delicate sparkling wine has notes of fresh crushed apples and a touch of lifted citrus character, making it a very quaffable wine to have cold, straight from the tap! La Serena Glera Frizzante’s versatility and elegant flavours make it the ideal alternative to a bottle of Prosecco, especially for matching with food.

Accordini

This family-run domain extends over two sites in the heart of Valpolicella Classico; four hectares in Negrar and six of the highest hectares in the appellation, at 400 metres altitude, in Fumane. The wines are outstanding and the reputation of the Acinatico name is growing all the time. Modernity is balanced by earth and roses, so characteristic of the terroir. Sartori

Back in the late 19th century, Pietro Sartori’s trattoria was a bustling venue where Veronese merchants and industrialists would meet, do business, eat and, of course, drink. As a result of these comings and goings, Pietro needed to maintain ample supply of good Rosso Veronese, which led him to buying a vineyard in Negrar in 1898. It was here that the Sartori story began. Stretching the boundaries of Veronese wine, without sacrificing the grapes and local winemaking styles, these are bespoke wines for today’s market.

Friuli-Venezia Giulia

Giovanni Puiatti

An innovator in his own right, Vittorio Puiatti developed what is now Italy's dominant winemaking technique for white wines, frequently called the “Metodo Puiatti.” Only 100% stainless steel is used during both the fermentation and ageing of the wines. The winery is the first cellar in Friuli to be constructed using only steel, concrete and glass, reflecting his motto of ‘Save a Tree, Drink Puiatti’ – in other words, no oak is used in any of the wines.

Jermann

Jermann's Pinot Grigio has been described as the monarch of this highly trendy category, and continues to set the benchmark for premium Pinot Grigio. A state-of-the-art winery, which was beautifully designed to sit in a ‘bowl’ amongst their vineyards. It's the talk of the region, and very much reflective of Silvio Jermann's forward-thinking approach to winemaking. Silvio uses unique blending methods prior to vinification to produce highly-prized wines with hints of floral aromas, piercing varietal character, and an elegance that will only improve with age.

Vistorta

Owned and operated since 1980 by Count Brandino Brandolini d’Adda, Vistorta is a 500-acre estate located in western Friuli-Venezia Giulia. With impressive winemaking investments in Bordeaux, Brandino has acquired the know-how, and entrepreneurial mentality, which he applies to his 40 acres of vineyard planted almost exclusively with Merlot. Brandolini is determined to produce the best Merlot in Italy, and constantly researches the best clones and planting systems to achieve this dream.

Piemonte & North West

A breathtakingly beautiful part of Italy known for the Nebbiolo grape, this region has much to offer, from Barbera to the mighty Barolo. Piemonte is also home to a culinary speciality: the elusive white truffle.

Every autumn, enthusiasts descend on Piemonte seeking the world’s finest truffles, and devise recipes to pair with the beautiful wine this region has to offer.

Azienda Agricola Negro

Azienda Agricola Negro is an entirely family affair; parents Giovanni and Marisa have recruited the help of sons Gabriele, Angelo and Giuseppe to run the 48 hectare vineyard and winery, while daughter Emanuela takes care of sales and marketing. The whole family is united in a single focus for their estate: to produce the best wines they can, from their collection of impressive vineyards.

Cantine Giacomo Ascheri

Take the road north towards Barolo and, in viticultural terms at least, you’re faced with a choice: left to the sterner, more powerful expression of the Nebbiolo grape; or right towards its gentler, more perfumed and elegant cousin, Dolcetto. As a winemaker, which do you choose? If you’re the charming Matteo Ascheri, you don’t – you have vineyards in both areas. The result is a bevvy of Barolos that, when tasted together, illustrate the disarming diversity of this beautiful part of Piemonte.

Cantine Volpi

Founded in Tortona in 1914, Cantine Volpi is still family-run, with fourth generation Carlo Volpi now at the helm. With a long winemaking history, the Tortonese hills sit at the meeting point of Lombardy, Emilia Romagna and Liguria, and there is evidence of wine production as far back as 1198 with a grape press found in the local monastery. The Barbera and Cortese wines in this range are a reflection of the climate and the unique characteristics of the Tortona region.

Conterno Fantino

Conterno Fantino stands at the summit of 21st century Barolo, both literally and figuratively. From its stunning winery atop the Monforte d’Alba hill, this alliance of the Fantino and Conterno families produces a range of wines that are both unmistakably modern, also utterly respectful of the region’s winegrowing heritage. That heritage is centred on vineyards that balance the need for Nebbiolo, with plantings of Barbera, Dolcetto, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay.

E. Pira

Since 1990, this jewel of Barolo has been run by the energetic and multi-talented Chiara Boschis. Her mission? To add an aromatically elegant edge to the legendary power of these great wines. She has added vineyards in Monforte to the original estate, but the heart of E. Pira remains as it was in the days of the late Luigi Pira – just 2.5 hectares of vines in Barolo’s prized enclaves of Cannubi, Cannubi San Lorenzo, and Via Nuova.

Fontanafredda

Fontanafredda’s history is peppered with tales of intrigue surrounding the Italian Royal family, but it is in the sympathetic hands of Oscar Farinetti, founder of the Eataly chain of Slow Food restaurants, that the winery has found its true fame. Under Farinetti, Fontanafredda’s revival looks assured and this sleeping beauty of the Langhe – its vineyards are among the finest in the area – is now on a clear upward trajectory. It’s a winery that combines this great history – Fontanafredda used to have its own bakery and school, and still preserves a great sense of community – with thoroughly modern production facilities for everything from Asti to Barolo.

Nicola Bergaglio

Organics are meaningless as far as the Bergaglios are concerned; what matter are the numbers of swallows which come back each year to enjoy the insects which thrive in their vineyards on the old and healthy Cortese plants. Consequently, what can be achieved through hard work is important, and getting hold of the family is difficult: in the first week of December 2011 they were cutting down chestnut trees on their estate; then they cut the timber into shape; then they took some other timber which had been seasoned in the open for over a year and they used it to replace stakes in their vineyard. The Gavi di Gavi, La Minaia, bears testament to this. ‘Minaia’ means ‘mine’ and mines mean minerals; lots of lemony minerals.

La Spinetta

The Rivetti family are farmers through and through. Giorgio Rivetti (who also owns the Contratto winery) is a force to be reckoned with in the region, and starred in the 2014 documentary ‘Barolo Boys’ about the group of winemakers who tore up the rule book for winemaking in the 1980s and 90s and reshaped the identity of Barolo through technical innovation. This uncompromising pursuit of excellence earned La Spinetta the reputation as the heirs of the great Angelo Gaja.

Their bold labels feature the rhinoceros and lion by Renaissance artist Albrecht Dürer. These powerful creatures evoke La Spinetta’s signature house style and philosophy, while also nodding to Dürer’s virtuosic reinvention of the woodcut medium.

Contratto

The Contratto cellars were carved into the limestone underneath the winery and the vineyards in the 1860s. The labyrinthine cellars are now recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage site, while the winery is famous as a pioneer of non-Champagne sparkling wines. Their Moscato and Asti sparkling wines, made in the Champagne method, were incredibly popular worldwide at the beginning of the 20th century. These historic export agreements are the reason behind the “For England” label on the Blanc de Noir Pas Dosé to this day.

Since the Rivetti family bought Contratto in 2011, they have employed their signature elan to take Contratto to new heights. They have invested in new vineyards, particularly focusing on high altitude plantings of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay.

Tuscany & Umbria

With its beautiful architecture, intoxicating landscape and iconic wines, Tuscany continues to flourish as one of the most romantic regions in Italy.

Wines such as Chianti have been produced here for over six centuries, and producers combine tradition with modernity to produce some of Italy’s finest wines.

Maremma

Castellani

Since 1903, Castellani has been exporting its finest estate wines from Tuscany. Although the wines have changed and evolved over the decades, their philosophy has remained consistent, with a strong belief that the quality of the wine begins in the vineyards. So too has their primary aim and aspiration – to create memorable wines, reflective of the family’s passion, investment in research and new cellar technologies.

Cantine Leonardo Da Vinci

When Cantine Leonardo da Vinci was founded in the Chianti winegrowing village of Vinci, also the birthplace of the genius Leonardo, the winery covered just 70 hectares and thirty small winegrowers. Over the past 50 years, the cooperative has expanded to include 200 partners who cultivate 750 hectares in the Tuscan hillsides. Their approach to winemaking is to harmonise the new and old together, by blending centuries-old winemaking heritage with the most modern winemaking techniques.

La Brancaia, encompassing the two estates Brancaia and Poppi, has been owned by the Swiss couple Brigitte and Brundo Widmer since 1981. Located in the heart of the Chianti Classico area, it saw a vertical take-off when its vintage 1983 won first place at a major Chianti Classico tasting. Since then, through uncompromising dedication to quality and a strong identity, the continuous recognition of Brancaia has been built up - spearheaded by the estate's top wine Brancaia IL BLU, being already a classic for many wine lovers all over the world.

Fattoria dei Barbi

In 1969, the term ‘Super Tuscan’ was coined to describe the winery’s Brusco dei Barbi, and the family’s combined land holdings in Montalcino and Scansano continue to produce a stunning range of wines today. From the signature Brusco through to a supple Morellino di Scansano - not forgetting its redoubtable Brunellos – the winery now boasts a dairy and butchery, producing mouth-watering meats, sausages and cheeses – not to mention olive oil and honey. Il Poggione

High on its perch overlooking the lush Maremma, Tenuta Il Poggione has become synonymous with top quality Brunello for more than a century. Its dramatic scenery proved irresistible to Florentine landowner Lavinio Franceschi in the late 19th century, drawn to the area by the tales of a local shepherd whose sheep spent the summer months on the sunlit slopes between Montalcino and Sant’Angelo. Now in the capable hands of fifth-generation owners L & L Franceschi, Il Poggione has about 125 hectares of the finest Brunello vineyards going, and a 10-year-old winery that combines modern equipment with a traditional approach, not least in the large French oak barrels so vital to the development of its classic Brunello and Rosso di Montalcino.

Montepulciano

Poliziano

Since its foundation in 1961, Poliziano has swiftly established a reputation as one of Italy’s leading producers of Montepulciano. The winery’s story taps into the history and culture of this picture-postcard corner of Tuscany. The name Poliziano is a tribute to the 15th century scholar Angelo Ambrogini, tutor to the children of the Medici. His ‘nickname,’ Poliziano, is a simple reference to his birthplace – Montepulciano was originally Mons Politianus in Latin. And why Asinone? The vineyard gets its name from its shape, said to resemble the back of a mule.

Central Italy

Sometimes overlooked, central Italy is home to some of Italy’s most fertile agricultural land and its wines are some of the country’s most popular.

Crafting wines which are approachable, interesting and diverse, it is an area which experiments in the rediscovery of little-known indigenous grape varieties, as well as ongoing research and development to evolve wine styles and production techniques.

Marche

Fazi Battaglia

Fazi Battaglia prides itself on belonging to a brand that inherently conjures up an image of pure Italian identity and culture. Created in 1949 in a small cellar, the winery spent decades investing in improvements in the vineyards and focusing specifically on a single grape varietal, Verdicchio. These choices were far ahead of their time, and resulted in Fazi Battaglia’s ascension to pioneers within the Marche, and the ultimate champions of Verdicchio within Italy.

Cantina Cleto Chiarli

Modena – the home of Ferrari and Maserati, of Pavarotti and Acetico Balsamico – is also the home of Lambrusco. From the day in 1860 when Cleto Chiarli shut the doors of his Osteria dell’Artigliere to concentrate all his efforts on winemaking, the Chiarli name has been tied to this great – and much misunderstood – wine style. Chiarli’s expertise in everything from wine quality to marketing – its innovative bottle, label and cork were much admired as long ago as 1900 – sparked a revolution in selling Lambrusco,

Rometta

The appellation Rubicone covers the area around the Rubicone river, which flows from the Appenine Mountains to the Adriatic sea. Rometta’s wines are extremely easy-drinking and relatively light in alcohol, with plenty of juicy fruit and modern style.

La Collina Biologica

La Collina Biologica is an initiative spearheaded by Francesco Cirelli, that allows students to share ideas and gain experience in sustainable agriculture under the tutelage of experts in the field. Under the auspices of the project, students can try their hand at tending olives, figs, garlic, spelt, wheat, barley, figs and even geese-herding. In keeping with the philosophy of La Collina Biologica, the Trebbiano is farmed biodynamically and vinified in traditional terracotta amphorae.

Bosco Nestore

Giovanni Bosco began growing vines in 1897 and then passed on the winery to his son Nestore. The wines had gained a local reputation for the intense perfume and spiced palate, but it was the recognition of the Montepulciano d’Abruzzo DOC in 1968 that propelled the international reputation of Bosco’s wines. As the coveted slopes of Pescara became saturated with vineyards, the Bosco family expanded inland and focused their production on only the highest-quality fruit. In the 1980s, the third and fourth generations of the family built a new winery In Nocciano. Wines are matured in a combination of large barrels of Slovenian oak, new barriques and in bottle.

South & Islands

Italy’s ‘boot’ enjoys geographical and climatic diversity, from the mountains of Campania to the rocky shores of Puglia.

The styles of wine produced are as diverse as the topography: pure, aromatic whites from Avellino; the robust reds of Menfi; and the intense sweet wines of Noto. Sicily’s mountainous terrain with lean soil, intense summer heat and scarce rainfall makes it ideal for viticulture, enjoying a hot ripening season tempered by elevated vineyards.

Campania

Antonio Caggiano

The Caggiano winery is based in the town of Taurasi, the heartland of Aglianico, which is the main focus of their production. Antonio Caggiano, the founder of the winery, designed one of the wineries himself - the most spectacular of its time in Campania. Today, thousands of bottles are laid down in its galleries - which are made of the local “tufo” stone - giving the sturdy Aglianico time to soften and develop the deep crimson hues and intense fruit flavours it’s best known for.

Cenatiempo Vini d’Ischia

Based on the stunning volcanic island of Ischia - known by the Romans as ‘Aenaria,’ or ‘wine country,’ just off the coast of Naples, Cenatiempo is one of the most historic wine cantinas on the island. Basilicata

Elena Fucci

The vineyards were purchased in the 60s at the foot of Mount Vulture, an extinct volcano. Later, Elena’s grandfather and great-grandfather took care of the vineyards, selling the grapes after harvest and keeping just enough to produce a small batch of wine for personal consumption. Their first thought was that “six hectares of land are too much to keep for fun,” so they decided to sell the land. Interested buyers were knocking down the door, but at the eleventh hour Elena backed down. She simply couldn’t bear the idea of a stranger buying the family vineyard she grew up in, or that someone else may do something great with the oldest vineyards on Mount Vulture. At this point, Elena completely changed the plans she had for her future, and decided to invest in the area. Today Titolo, her Aglianico del Vulture DOCG, is one of the most respected

Puglia

Boheme

Primitivo, a native varietal of Puglia, in the heel of Italy’s boot, is derived from the Latin Primitivus meaning ‘early to ripen’ - it’s no surprise then that it’s one of the first red grapes to be harvested in Southern Italy. Thanks to modern winemaking, this grape has been elevated from a humble quaffing wine to a delicious, jammy and moreish style, whose quality belies its price tag. A hugely popular red for casual dining lists.

Despite the harsh and rocky soil, the land is resplendent with vineyards and olive groves, and was once called by King Federico II ‘a garden of earthly delights.’ Here, Botromagno has 75 hectares of vineyards where Primitivo thrives on the hot plains, producing rich wines full of character. Interestingly, Botromagno are the only producers of the historic Gravina Bianco grape.

Sicily

Planeta

In Planeta’s early years, expertise came from a surprising source: Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to captured the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily’s grapes in their wines.. The early success of their Chardonnay – which now boasts a cult following - gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world’s eyes to the charms of Sicily’s indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Grecanico and Nero d’Avola as it does to the winery’s signature Chardonnay.

Sicily

Tenute Orestyadi

In a corner of Sicily where viticulture meets art, Tenute Orestyadi was founded in 2008. This unique territory holds the record for the largest concentration of vineyards and is particularly suited to growing white and red grapes rich in personality such as Grecanico, Fiano, Perricone, Nero d'Avola and Nerello Mascalese, among others. It is here, in the heart of the Belice Valley in Gibellina that the Orestyadi's vineyards are located.

Sardinia

Santadi

It sometimes helps to think of Sulcis, in south-western Sardinia, as Sardinia's Yorkshire (but with better weather), a coal-mining region where the coal mines have been shut by government decree. For the people of Sulcis, alternative employment came either through migration – it's said that if you look in any Italian restaurant kitchen in London you'll find at least one Sardinian working there – or through grape-growing. Local producer Santadi is of the later group, with the company's dozens of growers producing wines prized throughout Italy for their suppleness and refinement. They don't tend to promote this however – Sardinians are often unassuming and, by Italian standards, even introverted – but these Carignano and Vermentino wines are suffused with distinctive character, and are a perfectly pitched combination of warmth and freshness.

Spain

From the established heartlands of Rioja and Ribera del Duero, to the rejuvenated regions of La Mancha and Jumilla; and from Catalunya in the East to Galicia in the West, our Spanish portfolio is a powerhouse of wines that are fierce in character and have a strong sense of place.

Paired with a selection from sunny Mallorca and historic Jerez, it's a collection that's hard to beat.

North Central

Protected by both the Pyrenees and the Cordillera Cantábrica mountains, North Central Spain covers a vast area of land, with most vineyards sitting high up on the Meseta and illustrating high elevation viticulture at its very best.

Spicy reds from Rioja, powerful Tempranillo from Ribera del Duero and herbaceous Verdejo from Rueda remain firm favourites while historical Navarra and quirkier Toro, where tradition meets innovation, offer a testament to new wave Spanish wine.

Rioja

Ramón Bilbao

Established in 1924 and based in Haro, Ramón Bilbao has 180 vineyards spread across Rioja. Today, it is the fastest growing winery in the region and has firmly established itself as one of Spain’s most exciting and innovative producers. The jewel of the star-studded range is the Crianza, which holds the spot as the most popular Rioja Crianza in the Spanish on trade. Born and bred in the region, chief winemaker Rodolfo Bastida is a man who likes to push the boundaries and believes the future lies in trial and exploration.

Rioja

Sierra Cantabria

Nestled between the foot of the Sierra that gives the winery its name “Sierra Cantabria” at 1200m, and the Ebro River at 350m, sits the town San Vicente de la Sonsierra, a town of great winemaking tradition. Sierra Cantabria is a much-lauded family-owned producer who crafts wines of freshness, elegance and poise. Six generations of obsessive attention to detail and deep respect for the land has earned them a loyal following.

Viñedos Sierra Cantabria

Where the Eguren family produces traditional Rioja wines under the Sierra Cantabria estate, the more contemporary expression of their craft can be found at Viñedos de Sierra Cantabria. Grapes for these modern wines are sourced from some of Sierra Cantabria’s finest vineyards, resulting in wines that have a distinctly premium sensibility. The distinctive Eguren approach to attention to detail is very much in evidence here: only the finest perfectly ripe clusters are hand-picked at harvest, with just a fraction of these grapes getting beyond the sorting table to be manually destemmed and trodden by foot.

Señorío de San Vicente

A pioneer in Rioja, Senorio de San Vicente was the first single vineyard, single winery, single wine operation. Led by Marcos Eguren, one of Spain’s greatest winemakers, the winery uses an elegant and nearly extinct variant of Tempranillo, called Tempranillo Peludo (Hairy Tempranillo). With the first vintage in 1992, Senorio de San Vicente moved to French oak in recent vintages for a more modern profile (90% French, 10% American), with the wine aged for 20 months.

Vintae

In Vintae, we’re proud to have a one-of-a-kind, revolutionary producer – restless, creative and sometimes rebellious, with projects in over 15 DOs. The heart of their winemaking heritage lies in Rioja, Bodega Classica, specifically in the historic village of San Vicente de la Sonsierra. The Riojan Sonsierra is an area located on the south side of the Cantabrian Mountain Range and the Toloño mountains, which protects it from cold winds and humidity.

Milsetentayseis

Patricia Benitez draws on her extensive experience to create this innovative expression of Ribera del Duero from the boutique winery of Milsetentayseis. The name is a reference to the winery’s vertigo-inducing altitude: at 1076 metres, this is new territory Ribera del Duero. The unique terroir of Fuentenebro encourages a refreshing take on Tino Fino with a focus on elegance and subtlety.

Pago de los Capellanes

Upheld as the rising star on the Spanish scene over the past few decades, the landscape of Ribera del Duero is actually suffused with centuries of wine heritage – from gnarled Tinto Fino vines of venerable age, to the labyrinthine wine cellars that wind beneath the old cobbled streets of Aranda de Duero. Pago de los Capellanes may have all the modern bells and whistles - a recently-expanded vineyard and stunning winery facilities - but their history is rich and long, dating back to the 14th century.

Cruz de Alba

Cruz de Alba is a boutique winery located in the ‘Golden Mile’ of the Ribera del Duero, in Quintanilla de Onésimo (Valladolid, Spain), which started its own wine production in 2003. A standard-bearer of the expression par excellence of viticulture, Cruz de Alba is also an example of passion for oenology, respect for the local environment and balance. Its origins can be found in the Los Hoyales vineyard, a terroir in the heart of the ‘Golden Mile’. The special characteristics of this plot are usually associated with fine, elegant wines, perfectly representative of the singular character of the vineyard, which has been consistently evident in wines since production began. Cruz de Alba is made in small quantities using the best Tinto Fino grapes, cultivated using agrohomeopathic treatments according to the biodynamic calendar, and harvested carefully by hand. Cruz de Alba: born from nature.

Bodegas Chivite

J. Chivite Family Estates is an illustrious family with one of the longest histories of winemaking in Spain. When Julian Chivite Lopez inherited the now renowned estate, he acquired eleven generations of experience to go with it. Convinced that the wine’s future lay in the quest for excellence, he introduced sweeping improvements and innovations throughout the winery. His dogged commitment to quality was reflected in the wines themselves, which today are a benchmark for innovative, prestigious Spanish products.

Matsu' is the Japanese for ‘waiting’, which corresponds to the winery’s philosophy of respecting nature to take its course. Grapes in the vineyards are allowed to ripen in their own time, and restraint is exercised in the winery to allow each wine in the range to develop at its own pace.

Bodegas Care

Hailing from Cariñena DO, one of the three oldest denominacions in Spain, CARE’s state of the art winery produces great value wines with beautiful labels designed by local artist, Enrique Torrijos. The grapes are sourced solely from their own vineyards, with four separate estates dating back to 1948, all of which are situated 15km from the winery and at high altitudes. The wines have great balance of fruit and oak due to a much shorter ageing time, with the Crianza spending only 8 months in barrel. CARE wines are certified vegan.

Rueda

Bodegas Shaya

Shaya was the realisation of Miguel Gil’s dream to make authentic Verdejo wines from authentic vines. As such he set out in search of the finest pre-phylloxera vineyards he could set his hands on. In 2008 he made the first vintage but still didn’t have a name. Just at that moment a local wildlife centre had rescued a small deer from his land and named it Shaya. Just as the rescue centre saw something worth saving in the striking deer, Miguel had seen the same in these old forgotten vineyards and as such, the name was born.

Nieva

Ossian

The mission of the Ossian project is to demonstrate the unique terroir and soils of Nieva. Located within the Rueda DO, these wines are nonetheless declassified to reflect the divergence of their geology and microclimate from the appellation’s norm. Drier and warmer, but with cooler nights, the grapes ripen to perfection in these ancient sandy soils which are home to vineyards of more than 200 years old. The top wine, Capitel stands apart for its unique composition with some of the few deposits of slate penetrating the grey sand to yield an incredible minerality not normally associated with the region. A truly Burgundian and nuanced expression of this typical Spanish variety.

Boasting a long and fascinating history of winemaking, Catalunya marries tradition and modernity, with artisanal winemakers crafting small parcels sitting comfortably alongside pioneering bodegas and co-operatives.

The birthplace of Cava, our portfolio reflects this with an exciting selection of fizz.

Gramona

Gramona leads the pack in terms of premium Cava production. Combining six generations of accrued family experience, Gramona represents integrity at every point in the production process. From indigenous grapes and biodynamic viticulture, to extended lees ageing a minimum ageing period of 30 months, Gramona is uncompromising in its commitment to excellence.

This painstaking attention to detail has earned Gramona consistently high praise and scores from pundits, including a Platinum award in the 2020 Decanter World Wine Awards. Perhaps more impressively, Gramona is the only sparkling winemaker ever to win the overall top spot in Spain’s prestigious La Guia Peñin wine guide.

La Mancha

Poco Paco

Poco Paco is made in the heart of Spain close to the banks of the Manzanares River, that cuts across the middle of the country, flowing down from the Guadarrama mountain range. The river moderates the hot climate of central Spain, helping the winery keep the wines fresh and bright. The duo, Poco Paco, come in smart contemporary packaging and are crafted in a modern style.

Viña Albali

High up on the central plateau of the Iberian Peninsula, Castilla-La Mancha is the world’s largest wine-producing region. Viña Albali make reduced alcohol wines with just 0.5% ABV. Packed with fresh fruit character and plenty of flavour, these are excellent examples of just how far technology and winemaking have progressed in the arena of low-alcohol wines. Increasing consumer interest in low-alcohol alternatives can now be met with options that don’t compromise on flavour and provenance.

Jumilla

Juan Gil

Producing wine in Jumilla since the early 20th century, Juan Gil took a major leap forward when Miguel Gil, great-grandson of the company’s founder, created a new bodega in 2003. The estate is dedicated to achieving powerful yet approachable wines, based predominantly on Monastrell, which constitutes 85% of plantings. Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah, Merlot and Petit Verdot make up the remaining 15%. The bodega owns over five-hundred hectares of vineyards and has access to additional fruit from 30 to 50 year old vines.

Alicante

Bodegas Monóvar

With the help of Raul Perez, MG Wines and the Poveda family have renovated and rejuvenated this incredible estate, with Fondillones going back to the beginning of the 20th century. An incredibly unique wine that naturally achieves its residual sugar and alcohol content from raisined Monastrell grapes, the wines are aged for a minimum of 20 years in Canadian oak foudres to yield something that is truly one of a kind. Minimal intervention at its best, this is something every oenophile should have in their cellar.

Galicia / Atlantic

Also known as ‘Green Spain’, Galicia is a far cry from the hot, arid conditions often associated with Spain.

Instead, lush, foggy, and often wet climes prevail, providing perfect conditions for indigenous grapes Albariño, Treixadura and Godello, to thrive. Modern technology, specifically stainless-steel tanks introduced in the 1970s, have a lot to do with one of the most exciting products of Spanish winemaking: cool climate, mineral and elegant white wines from the north Atlantic coast.

Rías Baixas

Mar de Frades

Meaning ‘Sea of the Friars’ in Galician, Mar de Frades lies in the Arousa estuary, overlooking the Atlantic ocean. Proximity to cooling ocean breezes creates the characteristic freshness and aromatic intensity of the wines produced here, and the location is also reflected in the design of the winery; created to resemble a sailboat. Innovation is key at Mar de Frades, and their iconic blue bottle is designed to symbolise the modernity of Atlantic wines.

Bodegas Eidosela

Bodegas Eidosela is a small co-operative, started in 2003 by seven founding members who shared a love of wine and art. This passion is reflected in all their endeavours, but none so much as their Albariño - a modern style that is bright, crisp and elegant. There are now 60 members who own 45 hectares of vines, which they hope to bump up to 60 hectares. The staff includes Jorge M Domínguez Hervella, one of the best winemakers in Rías Baixas, who supervises development in the vineyard and the winery.

Pazo das Tapias

The Pazo do Mar winery, founded in 2006, was discovered by now-owner Manuel Mendez and, amazingly, the future success of the winery all began when his car ran out of fuel one afternoon. Manuel, whose family had been in the wine game for 40 years, walked to the closest petrol station where he met an old school friend working the till. After a quick exchange, the old friend gave him a bottle of wine. The bottle of red was so magnificent that Manuel made it his mission to find out where it was made. When he finally tracked down the producer, he managed to twist his arm into selling him the entire winery. The winery resides in Pazos-Verín in the province of Ourense where they produce indigenous, up-and-coming Godello and Mencia in their 13 hectares of vineyards. The average age of the vines here is 25 years, the harvest is a completely hands-on affair.

Ribeiro

Viña Mein Emilio Rojo

Emilio Rojo is widely regarded as Galicia’s finest white wine. The 1.2 hectare vineyard is situated on the north-facing slope of Leiro in Ourense. The wine is a field blend of Treixadura, Loureiro, Lado, Godello, Caiño Blanco, Albariño and Torrontes grown on unique “sabrego” soils, which are meticulously maintained with organic viticultural practices. The Vina Mein wines come from the opposite side of the valley, from south-facing slopes barely a few kilometres away from Emilio Rojo. What these wines have in common is that all fruit is picked at optimum ripeness and fermented separately. At harvest, the winery is full of old oak, cement, glass and stainless steel vessels exploring the potential of microvinifications. This is artisanal winemaking at its finest.

Ailalá-Ailalelo

Ailalá, whose name can be found in traditional Galician folk songs referring to happiness and dance, is a venture by three expert winemakers situated in the most ancient Valley in the Ribeiro DO, the Avia Valley. The young oenologists behind the wine are Xosé Lois from Coto de Gomariz, Inma Pazos and Javier Gonzáles from Casal de Armán. Their first mission was to exploit the aromatic quality and complexity of the little-known Treixadura grape variety - and what resulted is fresh and feisty alternative to Albariño. Since then, they’ve honed their efforts on creating a red of similar innovation, and the result is the delightful summery Souson; packing a punch with acidity, and smoothed off with judicious use of oak.

Valdeorras

O Luar do Sil

After a 20-year tradition making red wines in Ribera del Duero with Pago de Los Capellanes, the natural restlessness of the Rodero Villa family carried them on to a new adventure in Valdeorras, Galicia. The name of the new estate, O Luar do Sil, means ‘The Reflection of the Moon on the River Sil’, alongside which vineyards cloak the steep terrain of the rugged valley. This specific location was chosen because the land here is unique: the granite and slate soils, together with the microclimate, have created the ideal conditions for artisanal viticulture. The wines produced in the region using the indigenous Godello grape are subtle, mineral and fresh, with complexity to evolve over the years.

Getariako Txakolina

Adur

The vineyards of Txakoli occupy the north-west corner of the Spanish Basque Country. Hugging the Atlantic coastline in Getaria - the smallest region to produce this unique wine - is where Bordeaux-trained couple Maitena Barrero and Hector Gómez chose to set up and create their wine, Adur Txakolina. They work the vines to produce small yields - only 8000 bottles a year - to concentrate the Hondarribi Zuri grape in order to extract an intensity of aromas. It’s a Txakoli with poise, weight and an insatiable salty tang.

Formerly overlooked and misunderstood as a tippie solely for older generations, sherry is experiencing a renaissance with the popularity of dry styles soaring.

Our buyers have curated an exciting range of bottles from both powerhouse and smaller producers.

Jerez

Bodegas Alonso

Brothers Fernando and Francisco Asencio set about rescuing some of Jerez’s soon to be lost soleras. Bodegas Alonso, with the ancient soleras of Pedro Romero, Gaspar Florido and Fernando Mendez, is home to some exquisite sherries that are among the best in the world. All single barrel bottlings, there is a selection to choose from including Manzanilla, Amontillado, Oloroso and some spectacular Palo Cortados.

Xeco

Often overlooked and misunderstood as a tippie for older generations, sherry is in the midst of a renaissance thanks to its soaring popularity among hipsters. With a mission to make sherry accessible again, XECO is the brain-child of three 30-something Fino fiends who have set out to put a contemporary edge on an age-old product. To do so, they’ve joined forces with a magnificent Spanish sherry house that has been producing wines since 1876. Their flagship Fino is an utterly modern, refreshing introduction to the fortified wine, delicious served straight up or over ice with tonic or lemonade.

Emilio Lustau

As part of this year’s revamped sherry portfolio, we’re delighted to be representing some of the most sought-after sherries in the region. In the words of the great Robert Parker, Bodegas Emilio Lustau’s sherries are simply staggering in quality: “sherries such as these remain among the last great unknown wine bargains of the world. They must be tasted to be believed!” Established in 1896, Emilio Lustau is perhaps best known for pioneering the Almacenista system, whereby individual dry sherries are produced from small private holdings. With the racy Amontillado, powerful Oloroso and refreshing Manzanilla, this bodega offers something for every palate.

Jerez

Bodegas Barón

The story of Bodegas Barón began in 1895 when Manuel Barón Fernández acquired a collection of old soleras in Sanlúcar de Barrameda in the southern Spanish region of Andalusia. More than 100 years later, they may be one of the oldest bodegas in the region, but they’re still steadfastly committed to quality and innovation. The family-owned estate has invested in the future of sustainable development, and uses environmentally friendly products to guarantee quality across their portfolio. In 2014 Bodegas Barón embarked on a makeover of their entire range, and now with new avant-garde labels, they’ve set themselves on a trajectory of modernisation that will set them apart from their peers.

Sánchez Romate

Sherry has officially slipped off its “grandma slippers and housecoat” image, and the Bella Luna trio are perfectly poised to capitalise on that, paving the way for the modern sherry drinker. The wines are sourced from the extremely reputable Bodegas Sánchez Romate, one of the few remaining wineries in the Jerez DO which is still in the hands of local owners. For over 200 years, the firm has witnessed rare privileges: in 1909 they were appointed as Official Purveyors to the House of Lords, and shortly afterwards as Official Purveyors to the Sacred Apostolic Palace of the Vatican.

Harveys was founded in Bristol in 1796 by merchant William Perry. Initially, the company imported a range of foreign wines, one of which was sherry. At the time, sherry was imported in oak casks, and subsequently blended and bottled in the UK. During the 19th century, Harveys became one of the largest importers of sherry from the Bay of Cadiz to the port of Bristol and remains one of the biggest international names in the category.

Tío Pepe

In 1835 in Jerez, Spain, Manuel Maria Gonzalez, an ambitious 23 year old, set up the company that was ultimately to become Gonzalez Byass. Manuel was mentored in this by his uncle, José Ángel y Vargas, (affectionately known as Pepe), already a renowned authority on sherry and its production. Manuel gave his first cellar to his uncle so that he could continue his passion and make a sherry to his taste, which was at that time, not the norm. Later, Manuel sent a couple of barrels of his uncle’s new, dry wine over to his London agent, one Robert Byass. The beautifully dry taste of José Angel’s wine proved a great success and in 1849 Manuel named what is now the world’s best-selling Fino after its creator, (tio being Spanish for uncle) – Tio Pepe.

Quinta Do Crasto

Even among the breathtakingly beautiful and historic terraced vineyards of the Douro Valley, Quinta do Crasto is special. The estate celebrated its 400th birthday in 2015, and a demarcation stone marks its inclusion in the first geographical classification of the region’s vineyards in the 18th century. Owned by the Roquette family, Crasto is comprised of 70 hectares of vines that cling precariously to their schistous perch above the river.

Alentejo

Quinta da Plansel

The Quinta da Plansel winery is situated 100km east of Lisbon in the heart of Alentejo, specialising in wines made from indigenous Portuguese varieties. The winemaker and owner, Dorina Lindemann, set up the estate to continue the good work started by her father on the same site, who experimented with vine cultivation and clonal selection.

Dão

Casa da Passarella

Passarella is an award-winning gem of a winery located in the ancient and prestigious region of Portugal, the Dao. The flagship wines - Villa Oliviera with Encruzado for the white and Touriga Nacional for the red - are named after the man who founded the estate almost 150 years ago. Portugal-born Amand d’Oliveira made his fortune in Brazil and returned to his homeland, where he realised his dream; building a huge Brazilian-style house and planting 200 hectares of vines.

Port and Madeira

Taylor’s

For many, Taylor’s is the archetypal Port house and its wines the quintessential Ports. Established over three centuries ago in 1692, Taylor’s is one of the oldest of the founding Port houses. It is dedicated entirely to the production of Port wine and in particular to its finest styles. Above all, Taylor’s is regarded as the benchmark for Vintage Port. Noted for their elegance and poise as well as for their restrained power and longevity, Taylor’s Vintage Ports are blended from the finest wines of the firm’s own quintas or estates, Vargellas, Terra Feita and Junco.

Graham’s

The story of two families across three centuries. For almost two hundred years W & J Graham’s has been an independent family business renowned for producing the finest Port wines. It was one of the first Port companies to invest in its own vineyards in Portugal’s Douro Valley in 1890, and is now at the cutting edge of innovation in winemaking techniques. Today, five Symington cousins share responsibility for every aspect of the company and personally make the Graham’s wines. They too have been involved with Port and the Douro for many generations, with ancestry dating back to the mid-17th century.

Fonseca

From the legendary 1840, Fonseca’s first Vintage Port release, to the superb declared vintages of the last decade, the house has produced a succession of highly acclaimed wines even in the most adverse moments of history. This consistency derives not only from continuity of family involvement, and the knowledge and skill passed down from one generation to the next, but also a close link with the vineyard. The firm’s three estates of Cruzeiro, Panascal and Santo António are the heart of the distinctive character of Fonseca’s Vintage Ports.

Port and Madeira

Dow’s

The name of Dow has long been associated with the finest Port from the vineyards of the Upper Douro Valley. Throughout the 20th Century and into the 21st, the Symington family has built on the legacy of the preceding Silva and Dow families. Generations of Symington winemakers have worked at the Dow’s vineyards: Quinta do Bomfim and Quinta da Senhora da Ribeira, creating from them Dow’s superbly concentrated wines that are intense and tannic when young, maturing towards a superlative racy elegance with age and scented with violet and mint aromas. Dow’s attractive and distinctive drier finish is the recognisable hallmark of the wines from this great Port house.

Cockburn’s

Quinta dos Canais is the home of Cockburn’s Port, in the remote Upper Douro Valley. The mountain vineyards hug the slopes of the ridge running down to the river, surrounded by rocky crags, rushing waterfalls, wild scrub and flowers. Canais has been the heart and soul of Cockburn’s Vintage Ports for over a hundred years.

The domaine of 145 hectares which dominates the Pinhão Valley constitutes the heart and soul of Quinta do Noval. Since 1994, Quinta do Noval has replanted 100 hectares of the domaine with the noblest grape varieties of the Douro, adapting pruning and harvesting methods to suit each parcel. The parcels have been replanted in single grape variety plots, the varieties chosen to suit each individual parcel of land, according to three principal factors: the altitude, the exposition, and the type of planting of the vine.

Central Europe

When you think of European wine, Italy and France immediately spring to mind, but it's in the heartland of continental Europe that some of the most exciting bottles can be discovered.

Typically harsh winters, combined with summers that are warm and sunny, provide perfect conditions for an exciting array of flavours. It's little surprise, then, that Germany, Austria and Hungary are home to some of the most historic wine styles and producers in the world. Offering legendary sweet wines; piercing, mineral scented whites; and increasingly impressive reds, the price to quality ratio remains notably attractive.

Germany

With evidence that a vineyard was planted here more than 1,000 years ago, this is a country whose winemaking heritage is beyond question.

Few wine regions encapsulate terroir in a more expressive and evocative fashion than the Mosel, while the reliably warm summers of the Pfalz produce wines permeated with sunshine; steely Rieslings; and world class Pinot Noir or rather, in this case, Spätburgunder.

Rheingau

Leitz

With a unique selection of Rieslings, including a non-alcoholic offering, Weingut Leitz is located in Rüdesheim, at the western end of the Rheingau. This family estate is run by Johannes Leitz, who took over what was then a 2.6-hectare property from his mother in 1985, aged just 21. In 2011, he was named “Winemaker of the Year” by Gault Millau, Germany’s principal wine guide.

Mosel

Paulinshof

On the banks of the Mosel River, in the town of Kesten, lies a small, family-owned producer oozing with history: indeed, records suggest the St-Paulin estate was involved in vine growing as early as AD 936. Named as the top site in the Mosel in Napoleon’s 1804 classification, the famed Brauneberger Juffer vineyard also has religious overtones: ‘Juffer’ means ‘maidens’ in the local Moselle dialect and, reputedly, the original vineyard was planted by an industrious trio of nuns.

The Knipsers, originally from the Italian Südtirol, have been farming in Pfalz since 1876, with Heinz Knipser assuming the title as one of the region’s first winemakers in 1948, selling his produce direct to knowledgeable locals and restaurants. Now, under the guidance of brothers Werner and Volker Knipser – and more recently, Werner’s children, Stephan and Sabine – Weingut Knipser farms some 40 hectares of vines in Laumersheim, Grosskarlbach and Dirmstein.

Austria

Grüner Veltliner – Austria’s signature grape – has finally gained the recognition it deserves as producing wines suitable for any quality list.

The Wachau, with its steep terraces, marries minerality with opulence, whilst the softer hills of the Weinviertel give a fruit-forward and joyous expression. But Austria’s strength is also in its diversity; reds made from Zweigelt burst with cherry flavours, while adventurous producers are at the forefront of the natural wine movement.

Wachau

Erich Machherndl

Weingut Machherndl, an 18 acre estate established in 1786, is run by eighth generation owner, Erich Machherndl, who believes in honest viticulture without compromise. His philosophy is simple; keep focused on tradition, believe in the vines – especially the 100-year-old vines – and do not become distracted by the status symbols of modern viticulture. His first goal is to produce exquisite wines that can be enjoyed and admired for many years.

Weinviertel

Pfaffl

R&A Pfaffl was founded in 1978 by Roman Pfaffl and his wife Adelheid. Located just north of Vienna in the Weinviertel, Austria’s premier winegrowing region, the winery was originally a working farm with less than two acres under vine. Over the years the winery has expanded and now encompasses more than 200 acres of sustainably farmed vineyards, planted with indigenous Austrian varieties including Grüner Veltliner and Zweigelt. In their short existence, not only have the Pfaffl wines been recognised for their excellence with international accolades, but the family too has been praised for helping to bring the world’s attention to Austria’s wine scene and their indigenous varieties.

Hungary

Famously named ‘vinum regnum, rex vinorum’ (‘wine of kings, king of wines’) by Louis XV of France, Tokaj remains an unparalleled style which offers an unforgettable experience.

Sheltered by the Carpathian Mountains, and with the influence of the Bodrog and Tisza rivers, it is a dessert wine honed to perfection by centuries of history. In recent years, the region is also producing an exciting array of dry wines.

Tokaj

Patricius

While Tokaji is on the same latitude as the cool-climate Chablis region in France, the central European location of this Hungarian region means it enjoys a much warmer climate. It’s because of this, along with the influence of the Tisza and Bodrog rivers, that results in the perfect conditions for noble rot. Patricius came to be after Hungarian exile, Deszö Kékessy, returned to Tokaji and acquired 150 hectares of vineyard after building a successful business in Switzerland. The attention to detail at Patricius is breathtaking: re-planting and even re-orienting rows of vines where necessary, and upholding admirable standards of perfection in both their vine-growing and winemaking endeavours. This dedication and passion pays off in spades, with wines that display exquisite elegance and class, complex fruit and honey flavours, minerality and rapier-like acidity.

Sauska

Christian and Andrea Sauska have been crafting highly admired Hungarian wines for nearly 20 years. In the famous Tokaji region they make exceptional dry white wines from both local and international grape varieties, as well as classic sweet aszú and late harvest wines. Traditional method sparkling wines are also made under the expert eye of Régis Camus of Rare Champagne, with a dedicated new cellar being constructed in Budapest. The second winery is in Villány, near Christian’s hometown in the deep south on the border with Croatia. This winery produces red and rosé wines, and is home to a world-class restaurant. The family’s relentless drive towards quality includes practising organic viticulture (non-certified) and employing biodynamic practises in the vineyard. The Sauska family are pushing the boundaries of quality wine in Hungary, proving its potential as a prime destination for fine wine lovers.

England

England's impressive output – especially in its production of sparkling – has proved that it can hold its own on the world stage.

From the chalky Sussex Downs to the picturesque counties of Devon and Cornwall, new vineyards continue to be planted, and additional international renown comes with almost every tasting competition.

Hampshire

Hattingley Valley

A family-owned business in the heart of Hampshire, Hattingley Valley have been winning international acclaim and awards ever since their first vintage in 2013. Their English wine project began in 2008 and has developed into a custom-built, eco-friendly winery, farming some 24 hectares of vines across two separate sites. The first winery in the UK to adopt solar power, Hattingley Valley is recognised as a top estate abroad, and looks to be gaining just as much recognition across its native land.

Greece & Lebanon

First producing wine long before France and Italy.

Greece and Lebanon are offering a fresh mix of indigenous varietals that provide exciting alternatives to the norm.

Greece

With a history of over 6,500 years of winemaking, this often-overlooked country is making waves with quality, value-for-money wines that express the rich terroir of Greece’s rugged, sun-washed landscape and oceanic climate.

With a huge number of indigenous varietals lending themselves to new wines emerging onto the market, Greek wine is swiftly becoming one of the most exciting choices in the UK drinks industry.

Kir-Yianni was founded in 1997 by Yiannis Boutaris, one of the leading figures in the Greek wine industry, when he left the Boutari Wine Group, the premium family wine company that his grandfather established in 1879. Today Stelios Boutaris, member of the fifth generation of winemakers, leads Kir-Yianni into the next phase of its history by dynamically exploiting the cornerstones of the Kir-Yianni philosophy: desire for innovation, respect for tradition and true knowledge of the wine, from the grape to the end consumer.

Lebanon

As visitors to the Roman temple of Bacchus in Baalbek will tell you, wine has been important to people here since ancient times.

Settlers have also shaped recent winemaking history, with French grape varieties dominant, including Cinsault, Carignan, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot.

Altitude is key: with vineyards commonly planted at 1000m, the heat is tempered, and harvests are typically later than some parts of the Languedoc.

Batroun

Ixsir

Al-Iksir, meaning Elixir, is the purest form of all substances, a secret potion that grants eternal youth and love. Ixsir was therefore chosen as a fitting name for a new project established by a group of friends who share the desire of creating the finest wines Lebanon has to offer, and have been willing to spare no expense in realising their dream. Grapes are selected from the best terroirs throughout Lebanon, sponsoring sustainable development within growers’ communities.

Australia

The diversity and distinctiveness of this vast country's exciting winegrowing areas has long been championed as one of the keys to premium Australian wine.

Regions such as the Mornington Peninsula and Adelaide Hills are increasingly turning heads with their cool climate wines, while more established names such as Barossa, Eden Valley and Margaret River are reaching new heights of excellence as vineyards as well as winemaking techniques excel.

South Australia

The huge diversity in both geography and climate means that South Australia can produce a vast range of styles.

Offering distinctive Rieslings from the cooler climes of the Eden and Clare Valleys; Shiraz with power and elegance from the Barossa Valley; formidable Cabernet Sauvignon from Langhorne Creek; and flinty Sauvignon Blanc and polished Pinot Noir from Adelaide Hills, this is the heartland of Australia's wine country.

Barossa Valley

Rojomoma

A family run micro winery and 5-hectare vineyard in the Barossa Valley, Rojomoma is headed by Sam Kurtz, Bernie Kaeding and their son Raj. Located in the Ebenezer sub-region in northern Barossa, the old dry grown Grenache bush vines, planted in 1886, are renowned for producing grapes with exceptional flavour.

Eden Valley

Chaffey Bros. Wine Co.

This is the exciting new face of winemaking in Australia. Established in 2008 by brothers-in-law Daniel Chaffey Hartwig and Theo Engela, Chaffey Bros champion Riesling, Shiraz and Grenache from Eden and Barossa Valleys. Working in the realm of minimal intervention, artisan, small-batch wines, the pair prioritise experimentation and quality. Dan and Theo share a love for the sometimes brutal, remote landscapes of Barossa and Eden Valleys, which also boast a rich tapestry of passionate communities.

D’Arenberg

From once humble beginnings, family-owned d’Arenberg have grown to gain cult status amongst imbibers and judges alike for their enviable range of wines. A deft combination of winemaking tradition and vinous innovation might be a tall order for some, but it’s one that d’Arenberg have taken in their stride as they continue to push industry boundaries, getting under the skin of each individual vineyard they own to get the best from their grapes.

Clare Valley

Pikes

Pikes is best known for their Riesling range, capitalising on the cool climate of the Clare Valley. The Traditionale Riesling is the biggest selling premium Riesling in the domestic market, and their no-frills, democratic approach to quality wine has stirred up a firm fan base. With Jamie Pike now at the helm, Pikes stands for family values backed up by a non-pretentious approach. Pikes are heavily involved in the Riesling Riot tastings across Australia, that has been shedding light on this undervalued and undersold grape variety since the early noughties.

Adelaide Hills

Silver Lining Wine Co.

Legendary winemaker Marty Edwards left the family business, The Lane Vineyard, when he was diagnosed with Parkinson’s in 2012. Determined not to be defined by this condition, Marty underwent a cutting-edge Deep Brain Stimulation operation in 2018. Despite the challenges he faces, Marty couldn’t shake off his love of wine, so he created a new winery, “Silver Lining” and declared the first vintage in 2020. Part of the profits from sales of these wines will be donated to Parkinson’s Disease research in Australia, making the story and purpose behind these wines every bit as captivating as their quality.

Victoria

Home to some of mainland Australia’s coolest vineyards, Victoria is synonymous with pure expressions of classic varieties.

With a hugely diverse geology; from the ancient granite boulders of the Strathbogle Ranges, to the rugged mountain ranges of the Grampians, via the wind and sea-battered Mornington Peninsula, this is Australian wine at its most dramatic.

Strathbogie Ranges

Fowles Wine

When a company calls one of its wines ‘Ladies Who Shoot Their Lunch,’ you know you’re experiencing a wine story that’s just a bit, well, different. Matt Fowles – self-taught hunter, chef, winemaker and jazz trumpet player – was an unfulfilled lawyer before buying a winery out of administration and creating Fowles Wine. Food-friendly wines are Fowles’ focus, with their products specifically designed to be consumed with game.

New South Wales

Lying on the continent’s east coast, New South Wales is Australia’s second largest wine producing region and home to a variety of winemaking communities, each representing a diversity of unique terroirs and climates.

The most notable region within the state is the Hunter Valley, the birthplace of Australian wine, which is defined by its rich historical tapestry of vines and a past steeped in winemaking traditions. The warm and humid climate of the region is unique in Australian wine, allowing producers to offer iconic wine styles including delicate Semillon and earthy Shiraz.

New South Wales

Tooma River

The Tooma River flows from Mount Jagungal, high in the Snowy Mountains of New South Wales. It carries the snow-melted water gently downstream until it feeds the winelands around the famous Murray River, without which viticulture would not be possible in the arid climate of inland Australia.

Duxton Vineyards

Duxton Vineyards is based in the Southern Murray-Darling Basin which lies just inland behind Melbourne and Canberra, stretching across the New South Wales-South Australia border to Adelaide. which sits at the junction of New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia. The Murray-Darling Basin is recognised as one of the most fertile regions in Australia, producing a number of high-value crops alongside grapes, such as citrus fruit, nuts, stone fruits and cereals. Duxton Vineyards’ wines are estate-produced, following a modern approach to viticulture and heavily influenced by respect for the environment. These are uncomplicated, lovingly made, great value wines.

Hunter Valley

Mt. Pleasant

The vast Australian landscape provides a rich canvas of winemaking regions, but with its challenging climatic conditions and richness of unique sites, the Hunter Valley is one of the most characterful, celebrated and distinctive regions. Mount Pleasant’s legacy dates back to 1880, when English immigrant Charles King planted vines on rich, volcanic soil at the southern end of the Hunter Valley. In 1921, legendary winemaker Maurice O’Shea purchased and extended the property, naming it Mount Pleasant after the peak that rises behind the winery. Today, the winery is one of the most awarded in Australia, and under the direction of winemaker Jim Chatto, who has been described as having a forensic palate, they continue to release wines of a consistently high calibre.

McWilliams

Few have helped shape the evolution of the Australian wine industry like McWilliam’s Wines. From humble beginnings on the outskirts of Corowa in 1877, the philosophy of putting quality fruit first has ensured that McWilliam’s continues to be one of Australia’s most popular, respected and iconic wineries. With six generations of winemakers and more the 140 years’ experience, theirs are wines that tell the story of a family’s long love affair with their craft.

Western Australia

While Western Australia is the country’s largest region, production accounts for just 5% of the total wine produced in the country, with pioneering wineries producing elegant wines of serious quality and effortless sophistication.

Its wine regions are almost entirely in the cooler climes of Margaret River and Great Southern on its south-western tip, and have been awarded more gold medals than any other Australian wine region.

Great Southern

Swinney

Swan Valley

The Swinney property in Frankland River was established in 1922, providing high quality fruit to many of Western Australia’s top wineries. With their heritage lying in grape growing, it was in the last decade that Matt Swinney, fourth generation, established a boutique range of wines from the very best plots within their estate. The family’s winemaking philosophy focuses on terroir, and the wines Swinney produce represent the very best of modern Western Australian wine. They continue to push boundaries by establishing Grenache, Tempranillo and Mourvedre as bush vines, a rarity in this part of the country.

Corymbia

Inheriting the name of the most influential family in Western Australia’s winemaking history comes with responsibilities that husband-and-wife duo, Rob and Genevieve Mann, don’t take lightly. They speak openly about the legacy they are now a part of, and the unique, small-parcel wines they craft do them complete justice. Rob and Genevieve have more than 40 years of combined winemaking experience across Sicily, California, France and South Africa. Drawing on this broad range of influences, they have settled in the Swan Valley just outside of Perth.

Tasmania

A place of breath-taking, wind-whipped, rugged and unforgiving natural beauty, Tasmania offers Riesling, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir that express the purity of the island.

Typically bright and fresh, these wines have great structure and racy acidity.

Tasmania

Stargazer

Stargazer – brainchild of winemaker Samantha Connew – pays tribute to Abel Tasman, an explorer and navigator who spent much of his time gazing towards the heavens. Tasman, a Dutchman under the employ of the United East India Company was the first European to sight Tasmania and the South Island of New Zealand, nineteen days later. Samantha, a gifted innovator in her own right, fell in love with the Island and the mystery surrounding it, and after only four vintages she has already gained five-star recognition from James Halliday, including the 2015 vintage.

New Zealand

Renowned for its Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc and Central Otago Pinot Noir, New Zealand also offers superb expressions of aromatic grape varieties.

Riesling, Pinot Gris, Viognier, Grüner Veltliner and Gewürztraminer all thrive in New Zealand's ideal climate.

Marlborough

Yealands Estate

Yealands wine is inspired by the coast that surrounds our Seaview Vineyard in the Awatere Valley, Marlborough. Seaview is one of New Zealand’s most coastal vineyards with breath-taking vistas of rolling hills and wild coastline defining how our winemaking team create thoughtfully and sustainably crafted wines that work in harmony with our rugged landscape. Yealands has an absolute commitment to be the world’s most sustainable winery and are the world’s first winery to be certified carbon neutral since inception. They are the only New Zealand winery with the Toitu carboNZero Certification. The portfolio is also predominantly vegan friendly. Determination brought about the creation of the remarkable Seaview Vineyard – New Zealand’s largest privately-held, fully carbon-neutral wine estate, and producer of some of the Southern Hemisphere’s finest aromatic white wines.

Seresin Estate

Michael Seresin, born and educated in Wellington, left New Zealand for Europe in his early twenties to pursue a career as a cinematographer. Returning in 1992, Michael founded Seresin Estate in the maritime province of Marlborough. A “New World winery with an Old World approach,” Seresin offers elegant expressions of Pinot Noir, feisty Sauvignon Blanc and graceful Chardonnay. The vineyard has been farmed organically from the start with biodynamic principles introduced soon after.

The Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc category has spearheaded New Zealand’s fierce expansion into the UK, and accounts for a significant proportion of all New Zealand’s sales. Squawking Magpie

The Magpies are the Hawke’s Bay rugby union team. As much as the team has made the kleptomaniac bird synonymous with Hawke’s Bay, winemaker Gavin Yorrtt set out to make his wines synonymous with the renowned sub-region of Gimblett Gravels. Production of Squawking Magpie is limited, and in line with Gavin’s preference for viticultural excellence and single-vineyard expressions.

Since the first vintage in 1999, true to its name, Squawking Magpie has been scooping up Gold and Silver medals all over the world. This beady-eyed magpie has its eyes on the prize whether it’s the New Zealand International Wine Awards, the International Wine Challenge, the New World Wine Awards or the Decanter World Wine Awards.

Urlar

If farming is in the blood of ex-pat Scot Angus Thomson – he represents the fifth generation of Thomsons to work the land – then so too are wines and spirits. Both grandfathers were in the whisky business, but Angus forged a new path when he sold his farm in Forres and set up shop in NZ. More than a decade later, the Thomsons have a 31-hectare vineyard and a range of organic wines shining with beautiful varietal expression. The mission here is sustainability, following organic and biodynamic principles in the vineyard. It’s no surprise then that the estate’s name, ‘Urlar’ means ‘the earth’ in Gaelic.

Waiheke Island

Man O’War

Man O’ War is a stunning array of coastal hillsides with high cliffs and pristine beaches on the eastern end of Waiheke Island. Captain James Cook first sighted the rows of magnificent Kauri trees on this coastline on his first voyage around the islands of New Zealand, and noted they’d make ideal masts for the Navy’s Man O’ War battleships, hence the land gained its name. Today, Man O’ War is made up of 150 acres of vines planted in 76 individual hillside blocks, each with a distinct soil profile and microclimate. Winemaker Duncan McTavish ensures each small parcel of vines are carefully tended and harvested by hand, then vinified separately, fusing classic Old World techniques with innovative New World ideas to give his wines great intensity, depth, and personality.

Carrick Winery

It's been more than 20 years since Steve and Barbara Green established the first of Carrick's vineyard plantings on the Cairnmuir terraces at Bannockburn in Central Otago. What was, at the time, a tangle of wild thyme and briar roses, has now evolved into one of the region's most successful producers. Pinot Noir is the trump card here – richly coloured, immensely aromatic and full of cherry and plum fruit – but don't underestimate Carrick's characterful Chardonnay, which has enviable fruit purity.

Man Family Vineyards

The story behind MAN Family Wines started as a simple idea, with its founders, Jose, Tyrrel and Philip resolving to make wines that they would actually want to buy and drink. To keep the peace over the amount of time they foresaw spending making this vision a reality, the winery was named with the first initials of the founders’ three wives; Marie, Anette and Nicky. Today, MAN Family are champions of unirrigated, quality wines, with great packaging.

Ken Forrester Wines

Without the efforts of industrious men like Ken Forrester, South African Chenin Blanc might be scarcely more than a footnote to the country’s winemaking history – a workhorse grape, producing vast amounts of unmemorable white wine. Thankfully, this Zambia-born former restaurateur saw beyond the grape’s obvious quaffability, going on to produce wines such as The FMC that have not only elevated the varietal to world renown, but resulted in their creator being bestowed the moniker ‘Mr Chenin.’

Thelema Mountain Vineyards

Cabernet may be their hero, but Thelema’s origins owe more to the wines of Burgundy than Bordeaux; it was a bottle of Puligny-Montrachet that acted as the catalyst for Gyles Webb to abandon an accountancy career for winemaking. These days Gyles is Cellar Master, with the talented Rudi Schultz responsible for the winemaking. However, the philosophy remains true to Gyles’ original vision, centred on the principle of what he calls ‘benign neglect’ – minimal fining and filtration, and no use of commercial yeasts in the red wines.

Morgenster

New and Old Worlds meet at Morgenster. The estate was bought by Giulio Bertrand in 1992, who held a vision of making the best Bordeaux-style wine outside France. Requisite shale soils, cool breezes and proximity to the Atlantic provided ideal growing conditions, while Château Cheval Blanc’s Pierre Lurton added expertise and experience for the winemaking. The result is the perfect marriage of South African and French know-how. Only a portion of each vintage is released on launch, with the rest kept, evaluated bi-yearly and released in batches, allowing customers access to several vintages of the same wine.

Kleinood

The de Villiers family has left deep footprints in the history of the South African wine industry through the centuries, and Kleinood and the Tamboerskloof wines are no exception. The French Huguenot, Jacob de Villiers, bought the wine farm Boschendal between Stellenbosch and Franschhoek, after immigrating to the Cape of Good Hope in 1688. In the year 2000 Gerard de Villiers, a direct descendant of Jacob, and his wife, Libby, found the piece of land that stole their hearts – complete with mountains, river and a pristine tract of indigenous forest. Tamboerskloof is once again an integral part of the de Villiers family history as well as that of Cape Town and the Boland. The name Tamboerskloof means the valley (kloof) of the drums (tamboer).

Devon Valley

Martin Meinert

Established by Martin Meinert, the man involved in the creation of some of South Africa’s finest wines of the past two decades, comes this special and personal family project. Devon Crest Vineyard – an apt name for an estate sitting on the south-facing ridge of the Devon Valley with distant views of False Bay – is a more decorative title than the one the vineyard had when the Meinerts bought it in 1987: Remainder of Farm 78, Division of Stellenbosch. This is traditionally red wine country, expressed through wines such as Synchronicity’s blend of Cabernet, Merlot and bush-vine Pinotage, so it might come as a surprise to find a white Merlot, called ‘The Italian Job’, among their impressive selection.

Arendsig

Lourens van der Westhuizen is a fifth generation farmer but the first generation to make his own wine on the farm. In 2004 Lourens was given an untouched part of the farm, on the slopes, and worked for four months to prepare these soils, for the future of Arendsig wines. Lourens’ philosophy is to create great single vineyard wines from unique soil, climate and location. It’s the soil with all the microbes, cycle of elements and the help of living organisms that create the heartbeat for his vines. The location towards the sun, wind and holistic climatical conditions reflects the uniqueness of each vineyard.

Sutherland

With Thelema, Gyles Webb had warm-climate wines, so in contrast his next venture, Sutherland Vineyards, focused on cool-climate wines. Just nine kilometres from the Indian Ocean and at up to 250m above sea level, aromatic white wines and Pinot Noir are fast developing a repuation for quality. When purchased in 2002, the Sutherland estate – like so much of the Elgin Valley – was apple-growing country, but the 100-hectare property was soon home to Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay, with Riesling, Viognier and Pinot Noir following soon after.

Brazil

Brazil is South America’s third largest producer of wine, but has flown under the radar because much of its produce is destined for domestic consumption. Brazil’s economy grew significantly in the 1990s, and the country’s growing class of businesspeople developed an appetite for imported fine wine. Seeing an opportunity, local winemakers responded by developing a competitive domestic offering.

Vale dos Vinhedos (meaning “valley of the vineyards”) was first settled in the 1870s by Italian immigrants. Italian heritage still runs deep; for example, Venetian dialects are still used locally today. Vale dos Vinhedos was the first appellation recognised in Brazil, in 2002. It now covers just over 8,000 hectares at an average altitude of 700m.

Casa Valduga

In 1875, the first generation of the Valduga family emigrated from Northern Italy to Brazil. They soon began cultivating vines in what is known today as Vale dos Vinhedos, meaning ‘The Valley of Vineyards’. As one of the oldest wineries in Brazil, Casa Valduga is still a family business after six generations.

Chile

Sunny, dry summers; the twin cooling influences of the Pacific's Humboldt Current and the lofty Andes; and plentiful water thanks to mountain snowmelt means the term 'viticultural paradise' really does apply here.

Chilean winemakers are increasingly choosing to push boundaries, embracing experimentation and exploring more marginal conditions in exciting regions such as Leyda and Elqui, while retaining sight of the quality offered by established Central Valley enclaves including Colchagua and Maipo.

Casablanca

Viñamar

Located in the high quality Casablanca Valley and within close proximity to the Pacific Ocean, the vineyards are situated in several exceptional sites. In the scorching Chilean summer, the vines are cooled by ocean breezes and rolling mists that funnel up the valley. These ideal conditions allow grapes to ripen slowly and gently - creating intense yet delicate flavours and lovely fresh acidity.

Altair

Altair is a collaboration between French and Chilean grapes and expertise. Combining Bordeaux varietals with Syrah and Carmenère, winemaker Ana Maria Cumsille’s philosophy is to hand-craft super-boutique wines.

Leyda Valley

Viña Leyda

Casablanca Valley might represent Chile’s first intrepid steps into cool-climate production, but it’s Leyda that took a series of determined, confident strides. Just 14km from the vast Pacific Ocean, the Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Syrah planted here express a crispness, minerality and fine-boned structure not found elsewhere in Chile’s viticultural paradise. Under the direction of winemaker Viviana Navarrete, Leyda’s pioneering spirit has continued with single vineyards, along with successful experimentation in the way of different clones and soil types. One of her most exciting endeavours is a single vineyard Lot 4 Sauvignon Blanc produced from a Sancerre clone – the result which is wonderfully elegant and mineral – as a relation of Sancerre should be, with added richness and fine acidity.

Isla de Maipo

De Martino

De Martino was the first winery to label a wine as a single varietal Carmenère, and also the first winery to export Carmenère from Chile. Having won the “Winery of the Year” accolade on three separate occasions, De Martino very much sets the tone worldwide for the quality that Chilean wine can achieve.

With three generations of expertise under their belts, De Martino isn’t interested in resting on its laurels. In 2011, winemaker Marcelo Retamal made a concerted push to modernise the style of his portfolio. Tapping into global trends for picking earlier, using only indigenous yeast and avoiding new oak, the De Martino house style has evolved towards elegance and purer fruit expression.

Elqui

Viña Falernia

If your knowledge of the vineyards of Chile is limited to Maipo, Rapel and Colchagua, the Elqui Valley might come as a bit of a shock. This northern enclave of earth tremors and UFO-spotting really does resemble a valley, running east to west and with a growing population of vines drawing on the vital irrigation of the Elqui River (there’s typically less than three inches of rainfall a year in this arid region).

Central Valley

Viña Undurraga

Lanya, Primera Luz and Los Tortolitos all source grapes from Viña Undurraga, which is a family-run vineyard in Chile. Since the family began importing vine cuttings from Europe in 1870, their holdings have now grown to 1,350 hectares across the most prestigious winemaking valleys of Chile. The state-of-the-art winery is a pit-stop for the great and the good travelling through the region, including Neil Armstrong and Gabriel Garcia Marguez, who all presumably enjoyed the brilliant, characterful wines.

Itata / Bio Bio

Terroir Sonoro

Juan Ledesma is a jazz musician and an erudite, artistic soul who made his first vintage in 2013, after discovering 300-year-old vines in Itata and Bio Bio. Feeling that everything he had learnt studying agronomy was a lie, he set out on a winemaking mission to support the growers, one of which is his cousin, in a quest to make exceptional wines. Juan’s methods are both unusual and pioneering. Lees are suspended by the resonance of jazz music that he records and then plays in the wine when it’s ageing in barrel. This combines two visions – the science of using sound waves to mimic batonnage and his emotional ties to jazz. A lot of his inspiration, including the names of his wines, are taken from his hero, Chilean poet, artist and scientist Nicanor Parra.

Argentina

Built on a tradition that fuses New World and Old World wine regions, Argentina boasts a rich cultural heritage in relation to wine, with more than 400 years of history.

The wines established an identity as exciting, quality focused and food-led, with plush and velvety Malbec leading the revolution. We are very excited about our Argentinian range, which boasts unprecedented diversity coupled with some of the most desired brands on the market.

Mendoza

Trapiche

Established in the foothills of The Andes, Mendoza in 1883, Trapiche is one of Argentina’s oldest wineries, and its largest exported premium brand, sold in more than 80 countries. Trapiche boasts one of the country’s most diverse wine portfolios including a range of award-winning Malbecs - that reflect the viticultural history of the region. Under the direction of winemaker Daniel Pi, Trapiche sources premium grapes from Argentina’s top wine-growing sites, including more than 2,400 acres of proprietary vineyards and a stable of more than 300 independent growers.

Santa Ana

The story of Santa Ana is defined by constant evolution and development, from the winery’s foundation by Italian émigré and winemaking pioneer Luis Tirasso in 1891, to the company’s leadership in the Argentinian market in the late 1970s, and its exploration of overseas destinations in the years since. Today, its wines are sold in more than 50 countries around the world, and the secret of Santa Ana’s success lies firmly in the vineyards. Esteemed winemaker Rodolfo ‘Opi’ Sadler has access to an enviable array of quality fruit sourced from all over Mendoza.

La Mascota

La Mascota vineyard is located in Mendoza’s first viticultural region, Cruz de Piedra, Maipu, one of the country’s finest areas for grape-growing. It’s influenced by cool breezes coming from both the Andes mountains and the river, which allows a vast temperature range across day and night. They are beautifully intense, refined and moreish.

El Esteco

Among the Calchaqui Valley’s lush vegetation, rivers and rocky mountains, there emerges, unexpectedly, a stretch of desert. At an altitude of 1,800 metres, with its radiant sunshine and ideal temperature ranging from hot days to cool nights, the environment is perfect for vine growing. And it is here, in the heart of this unique valley where El Esteco stands. French immigrants David and Salvador Michel founded the winery in 1892, taking advantage of this special region to produce distinctive and elegant high-end wines, with great concentration of colour, deep aromas and well-defined flavours.

Humberto Canale

If Río Negro is a relative newcomer to many people’s wine repertoires, Humberto Canale has experience on its side. The winery was established way back in 1909, taking its name from its founder, the pioneering engineer who did so much to develop Patagonian agriculture. More than 100 vintages and four generations later, Guillermo Barzi Canale is at the helm, overseeing a range of elegant wines that run the gamut from Pinot Noir to Malbec and Cabernet Franc, not forgetting a pair of excellent value white and red blends.

North America

Winemaking in the USA has never been more exciting, and with producers including Ste. Michelle Wine Estates, Share a Splash and Bogle, we are proud to offer one of the most diverse American portfolios in the UK.

North America offers wines of great balance and value, from sun-bathed Sonoma to wind-whipped Monterey, and the cooler parts of Sacramento's Delta region to the rich depths of Paso Robles reds. New wines from the cooler climes of Washington State and the iconic Napa Valley also add depth and excitement to the portfolio.

California

The largest, best known and most diverse winemaking region in the United States of America, it’s not hard to see why California inspires so much interest.

Varying from abundant sunshine to cool coastal air, a hugely diverse range of climates contributes to wines of outstanding quality that are largely characterised by ripe, fruity flavours and an abundance of oak.

Napa Valley

Stag’s Leap Wine Cellars

This is one of the undisputed icons of the Napa Valley. Just three years after the winery was founded, in 1973 their Cabernet won the famous Judgement of Paris tasting, beating first and second growth Bordeaux. Since then they have become one of the most compelling and sought-after wine producers in the world. The winery is located in the Stag’s Leap District, a small sub-region in the south-eastern Napa Valley known for producing particularly elegant, age-worthy wines.

Louis M. Martini

Louis M. Martini is an iconic Napa Valley winery that has crafted world-class Cabernet Sauvignon since 1933, relying on the simple premise that the best grapes make the best wines. Pioneering founder Louis M. Martini played an integral role in establishing Napa Valley as one of the world’s premier winegrowing regions. Today, the winery continues this winemaking tradition with a range of celebrated Cabernet Sauvignon wines from Napa and Sonoma.

Patz & Hall

Established in 1988, Patz & Hall makes some of the New World’s most stirring and sought-after single-vineyard Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Its founders Donald Patz, James Hall, Anne Moses and Heather Patz, created one of California’s most highly-regarded wineries, becoming one of the first producers to bring a celebrated portfolio of single-vineyard wines to a wider audience. The core philosophy is to work with only the finest vineyards in California, farmed by the greatest growers. To achieve this, winemaker James Hall has developed close personal and long-term relationships with legendary growers such as Larry Hyde, the Dutton family and Bill Price. This dedication has given Patz & Hall unprecedented access to the most sought-after sites, blocks and clones across California’s finest winegrowing regions. James Hall has made every Patz & Hall wine since 1988, crafting them all in the state-of-the-art winery that he designed himself. James and his team apply both traditional and cutting-edge techniques, including the custom barrel programme where barrels are seasoned for three years by cooperages in the heart of Burgundy. The Chardonnay is fermented with indigenous yeasts whilst the Pinot Noir sees a mix of native and cultured yeast, always with a proportion of whole-bunch pressing.

Share A Splash!

Share a Splash wine co. (formerly Cannonball Wine Company) was established by Yoav Gilat in 2006, and since then has grown from a modest Cabernet producer to a solid industry player. Their mission is to produce wines that offer quality, character and approachability that surpass expectations for the price, and always deliver a serious splash! Share a Splash wine co. winemaker Ondine Chattan embodies the company’s uncomplicated approach to wine: ‘I am inspired by the purity of flavors in the grape varieties themselves and endeavor to present those flavors in various ways – be it bold and direct – no translation needed, or subtle and layered – unfolding slowly.’ Share a Splash wine co. embraces the belief that wine, like life, is best enjoyed when shared.

MacMurray

Actor Fred MacMurray bought the MacMurray ranch in 1941 and embraced the rancher’s lifestyle, raising prize-winning cattle and farming crops, while his children rode horses through the hills. Transformed into a world-class vineyard in 1996, MacMurray Ranch quickly became one of Russian River’s most acclaimed Pinot Noir vineyards. Today, the estate has expanded and encompasses vineyards throughout the Russian River Valley and the Central Coast.

Bonny Doon Vineyard

Randall Graham is the daring, pioneering brains behind Bonny Doon. Since he set up the winery in 1983, he has been the driving force between the cult craze for transposing Rhône varietals to the USA’s West Coast, spotting the similarities between the Mediterranean climate and terroirs. A by-now iconic front cover of The Wine Spectator cemented Randall’s reputation when it featured him in fancy dress as The Lone Ranger with the headline, “The Rhône Ranger: Maverick Californian”.

No true maverick can bear to stand still for long, so Randall recently rejigged his entire range and has consolidated it to just four wines. The philosophy is stylish, elegant, accessible, great value and fun. Randall keeps his link to the Rhône Valley alive with his branding: the UFO on the label of Le Cigare Volant is a nod to the notorious law in Châteauneuf-du-Pape outlawing UFOs.

Orin Swift

The story of Orin Swift Cellars dates back to 1995, when on a lark, David Swift Phinney travelled to Florence for a study semester and quickly fell in love with wine. Three years later, Phinney started his own venture with just two tonnes of Zinfandel and an insatiable passion for his craft. What started as a tiny production project has now grown into an empire of wines distributed across the world, with Phinney establishing himself as one of the most influential and innovative winemakers in California.

West Coast Swing

West Coast Swing is the official state dance of California and can be danced to almost any music; it’s all about matching rhythm, melody and mood, and the same can be said for the delicious White Zinfandel. This a wine bursting with vibrant ripe peach, mango and melon aromas, while a fresh acidity balances the sweetness of this much-loved classic.

Washington State

With the first vines planted here in the early 1800s, at least 40% of the state’s vineyards were planted in the last decade alone.

The winemakers who have chosen to plant here are still experimenting with grape varieties and vineyard sites. The warm, dry climate means that bold and red grapes such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Syrah are key players here.

Washington State

Chateau Ste. Michelle

Chateau Ste. Michelle’s pioneered vinifera grape growing in Washington State, directly challenging the previous conception that great American wine could only come from California. Since 1967, the winery has been producing top class European varietal wines under the Chateau Ste. Michelle label, all of which highlight the quality, style and expression of their Washington State vineyards. The winery combines an ongoing pursuit of innovation – particularly evident in their many joint ventures.

In this venture, the duo is committed to classic winemaking traditions in the pursuit to craft some of the highest-quality wines Washington has to offer. Named after Beethoven’s Third Symphony, Eroica reflects not only its variety and site, but also its heritage: bold and forward from its Washington roots, elegant and refined from German inspiration.

14 Hands

14 Hands wines are inspired by the unbridled spirit of the wild horses that once freely roamed eastern Washington. Measuring just fourteen hands tall — a “hand” equivalent to the width of one’s palm — these tenacious little horses would travel down from the hills every day to drink from the mighty Columbia River and graze along the riverbank, then retreat back to cool off at night. Washington’s wild horses have become living symbols of the pioneer spirit of the American West.

Oregon

Its cool climate, high-quality Pinot Noir has been likened to Burgundy in terms of quality, and due to popularity, this grape is planted across 60% of the region.

Long summers which are warm and dry, combined with cool evenings that preserve acidity, help produce the elegant and distinctly ripe character that Oregon wines have become known for.

Oregon

Omero

If Napa is the Bordeaux of California, then Oregon is the Burgundy. There are obvious climatic and varietal parallels, but Omero Cellars sees things slightly differently. This family-owned and operated winery, set in Ribbon Ridge, the smallest AVA of the Willamette Valley, is quick to point out that it’s not aiming to replicate the Côte d’Or, but to champion Oregon’s unique soils, climate, fruit – and most importantly people. It’s an individuality that is apparent in the Omero wines, from Pinot Noir to Chardonnay. Winemaker and biodynamics specialist Chad Stock’s Pinot Noirs are the product of an attention to detail that borders on obsession, from the tailoring of Burgundy clones to Oregon terroir, to his treatment of prized yeast cultures as if they were sourdough.

Canada

One of the great sweet wines of the world alongside Sauternes, Tokaj and Vin de Constance; Canadian Icewine is a remarkable style, born on the Niagara Peninsula between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie and based on the toughest grape harvest (late December, -10°C).

Perfected by generations of growers into a divine combination of luscious sweetness, biting acidity and dazzling purity of fruit; nectar is the tasting note that springs most readily to mind here.

Ontario

Peller Family Estates

The Pellers are Icewine pioneers, and were one of the first families to explore the possibilities of this unique Canadian style of wine. Commitment to Icewine production isn't for the faint-hearted, but this didn't daunt the Pellers; the family took it one step further, planting their Niagara Peninsula vineyards closer to Lake Ontario to make their products even fresher and more food-friendly. Their efforts paid off – the wines that result are uniquely unctuous, with a piercing streak of lip-smacking freshness.

Château Léoube

Lord and Lady Bamford, a pioneering family driving positive sustainable change in the UK, acquired the 17th century Château in 1997, marking a new beginning for Léoube. The family vision was to bring their passion and their experience for sustainability and organics to fine winemaking. The responsibility of expanding the vineyards and improving quality has been given to Romain Ott, fourth generation winemaker of the Ott dynasty. A policy of zero use of pesticides and chemicals is crucial to preserving biodiversity and therefore taking care of wildlife, leading to a strengthened and stable ecosystem. Certified Organic, the Léoube estate is an entirely protected environment where natural wet areas support and develop biodiversity. All the waste materials are carefully recycled or upcycled.

Olive Oil

With Enotria&Coe's history firmly rooted in Italian wine, it makes sense that we harbour a passion for Italy's other great export: olive oil.

Some of our most long-standing and world-renowned producers have been cultivating olive groves alongside vineyards for decades.

Sicily

Planeta

In Planeta’s early years, expertise came from a surprising source: Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to captured the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily’s grapes in their wines.. The early success of their Chardonnay – which now boasts a cult following - gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world’s eyes to the charms of Sicily’s indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Grecanico and Nero d’Avola as it does to the winery’s signature Chardonnay.

Morgenster

New and Old Worlds meet at Morgenster. The estate was bought by Giulio Bertrand in 1992, who held a vision of making the best Bordeaux-style wine outside France. Requisite shale soils, cool breezes and proximity to the Atlantic provided ideal growing conditions, while Château Cheval Blanc’s Pierre Lurton added expertise and experience for the winemaking. The result is the perfect marriage of South African and French know-how. Only a portion of each vintage is released on launch, with the rest kept, evaluated bi-yearly and released in batches, allowing customers access to several vintages of the same wine.
