A Burgeoning Trend - The Definitive E&C Organic, Vegan and Biodynamic List

We are living in an era of ever-increasing consumer demand for transparency. The processes behind what we eat and drink are under ever more scrutiny to allow people to make informed choices to suit a wide range of ethical and lifestyle choices. A big part of this movement has been the growing awareness of organic farming methods and an increasing availability of products labelled as Organic. A report by the Soil Association has suggested that the UK organic market grew by 5.3% in 2018 and is now worth £2.33 billion.

There is some evidence that this trend may be even more important within the category of wine. A 2018 survey by the IWSR suggested organic wine consumption increased by 70% between 2012 and 2017. Crucially, consumers may be willing to accept that these standards come at a premium: the same study suggested that UK consumers may be willing to pay 38% more for a bottle of organic wine than for a bottle of non-organic wine.

It's important to keep this growth in perspective. Even optimistic reports suggest that the size of the organic wine market might grow to 9% by 2022, leaving at least 91% of wine not certified as organic. But for certain consumers the message of more ethical, clean and 'green' winemaking is incredibly important. For many on trade businesses, providing such wines for their target market may even be a core part of their business model.

Organic farming is purely about what happens in the vineyard: how the vines which grow the grapes are farmed, and particularly how pests and diseases are managed. At its core, organic production is about severely reducing chemical additions to plants and the soil. Many wine producers might farm this way, but in order to label a wine as 'Organic' they must gain a certificate from a recognised body. To do this, they must meet necessary regulations for three years before an organic label can be put on a wine bottle. This is a big investment for wineries.

The fees for registering with a certification body can be considerable, alongside the costs of additional manual work in the vineyard that comes with organic farming.

Some wineries farm organically but choose not to gain certification, either because of cost or the bureaucracy, or even other objections such as the permitted use of copper-based sprays. Such 'practising organic' producers may be meeting organic standards and perhaps more, but there is no easy way to prove that to the consumer. A certificate proves the achievement of a minimum, regulated standard.

Many people are less aware of what 'Biodynamic' means when seen on a label and how it differs from Organic. Like organics, it is purely about the vineyard, and at its foundation it must meet the organic standards. However, it is turbo-charged by the incorporation of a set of ideas from the Austrian philosopher Rudolf Steiner. Its methods can seem strange, such as using the lunar calendar to plan vineyard activities, and, famously, using preparations such as cow manure fermented in a cow horn buried over winter instead of sprays and fertilisers. Rather than a set of procedures, it is a holistic view of the vineyard as a living thing, full of life forces to work with rather than against. Like organics, certification must be provided by a body (such as Demeter) for a winery to label their wine a biodynamic. Whilst it has its sceptics, some of the world's leading wineries are employing biodynamic methods to great effect.

Neither scheme necessarily means that the resulting wines are better than wines without such labels. Nor does it mean that non-organic or biodynamic wine producers are farming in a harmful, reckless manner without regard to the environment. Virtually all top-quality wine producers now embrace the importance of managing their vineyards in an environmentally sustainable manner. Yet it is still worth highlighting those that do take this step. We have brought together a range of wines that fall under this umbrella.

Domaine Cazes

Emblematic French fortified wine estate Domaine Cazes is by far one of the most respected estates in Southern France. Founded by Michel Cazes in 1895, Domaine Cazes is located in Rivesaltes, in the heart of the Roussillon region - "The French Catalunya" - between the Pyrenees Mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. In 1997, fourth generation winemaker Emmanuel Cazes took over the estate from his father and initiated the organic and biodynamic conversion of all vineyards. Today, Domaine Cazes produces not only fortified wines such as Muscat de Rivesaltes, but has also acquired vineyards in different Roussillon appellations, including the recently created Clos des Paulilles in Collioure and Banyuls. Domaine Cazes is Europe's largest organic and biodynamic certified wine estate.

Domaine Jeanjean

Part of Advini, a group of award-winning French and South African wineries, founded by the Jeanjean Brothers, Vignobles Jeanjean has its roots in the Languedoc, emphasizing the fabulous terroirs of Southern France. Experts on the Languedoc for five generations, today Vignobles Jeanjean accounts for seven estates in the region, including the fabulous Domaine du Causse d'Arboras in Terrasses du Larzac, and Devois des Agneaux d'Aumelas in Coteaux du Languedoc. Although the Jeanjean brothers head up the Advini group, they always put a lot of effort and dedication in the Languedoc wine region, their homeland.

Loire

Domaine Laporte

Domaine Laporte is one of the most highly respected estates in the Loire Valley, comprised of more than 74 acres of vineyards in Pouilly-Fumé and Sancerre. Their flagship Sancerre comes from one of the finest vineyards in the appellation, Domaine du Rochoy, a 25-acre monopole vineyard carved out of the flint hillside overlooking the Loire River. As a certified organic producer, Domaine Laporte makes their wines in a very traditional and natural way, ensuring a sense of purity and excellence in the finished product.

Domaine Pierre Sourdais

Pierre Sourdais has built a reputation for the consistently high quality of his Chinon. With a plethora of different soil types on his 25-hectare property from which to choose his fruit, Pierre is able to produce wines of great character year in, year out. The Chinon Tradition, recently certified organic, is soft and supple, with ripe tannins and an elegant finish – a classic expression of Cabernet Franc.

Provence

Château Gassier

A specialist producer of Côtes de Provence rosé wines, Château Gassier is nestled in 40 hectares of vineyards at the foot of the Sainte Victoire mountain, occupying a privileged position at the meeting point of three Provence appellations. Syrah, Cinsault and Grenache are blended to produce classic and refreshing Provençal wines of outstanding quality, stemming from years of passion and hard work. The estate has been certified organic since 2016, with all efforts made to ensure Gassier wines express the subtlety and purity of their terroir.

The amiable and very talented Jean-Pierre Fayard has built up one of Côtes de Provence's most dynamic and well-respected estates. He now owns 91 hectares of prime vineyard around the village of La Londe, much of which is Cru Classé rated, and all of which he tends using organic viticulture. The elegant, food-friendly rosés are made predominantly from Grenache, with differing proportions of Cinsault, Mourvèdre and Syrah.

Rhône

Domaine Combier

Before 1990 all the grapes from Combier's 13 hectares of vineyards were consigned to the local cooperative. However, when son Laurent Combier returned from oenology school, imbued with a vision of the heights that could be achieved with the estate's grapes, the family built a winery and began making its own wine. Today, the estate covers 19 hectares and the wines are considered amongst the very best of the appellation. All the wines from Combier are made from organically-grown grapes.

Domaine de Montvac

The best way to find new gems in the Rhône Valley is to ask people in the region what they like to drink, and we were gladly given the name of Cécile Dusserre at Domaine de Montvac. Here, wine has been a woman's domain for the past three generations. In the vineyards, the emblematic Grenache grape is dominant and the terroir is the focus, with organic farming throughout the property. The cuvée Variation is a 100% Grenache made from 85-year-old vines.

Domaine Gilles Robin

Gilles took over the running of this estate in 1996. With a history of winegrowing spanning four generations, his aim was to realise the potential of the then 25-year-old vines. Using only natural fertilisers and reduced yields, he was able to develop a richer concentration of fruit and quality. A new winery was built into the ground to allow the wines to be moved delicately by gravity. Gilles' first vintage was so good that he won a gold medal at the Mâcon Fair, and his reputation has grown ever since, with accolades from industry heavyweights Decanter, Wine International, Robert Parker and Wine Spectator, just to name a few.

Since 1990, this jewel of Barolo has been run by the energetic and multi-talented Chiara Boschis. Her mission? To add an aromatically elegant edge to the legendary power of these great wines. She has added vineyards in Monforte to the original estate, but the heart of E. Pira remains as it was in the days of the late Luigi Pira – just 2.5 hectares of vines in Barolo's prized enclaves of Cannubi, Cannubi San Lorenzo, and Via Nuova.

Varvaglione

Passion and commitment are key to this modern winery, which enologist Cosimo inherited from three generations of family winegrowers. Lying in the very heart of MagnaGrecia, it's one of the region's best examples of innovation and tradition. Varvaglione's main focus is on enhancing the indigenous grape varieties, such as Primitivo and Negroamaro, and pursuing quality through the extremely careful selection of grapes, canny harvesting, and special attention to new technology.

Although the wines have changed and evolved over the decades, their philosophy has remained consistent, with a strong belief that the quality of the wine begins in the vineyards. So too has their primary aim and aspiration – to create memorable wines, reflective of the family's passion, investment in research and new cellar technologies.

Made in three different regions throughout the country – Trentino, Tuscany and Umbria – these wines are elegant and honour their respective terroirs. Comparing themselves to artisans of time who wait patiently for their grapes to ripen on the vine and for their wines to mature in the dark depths of the cellar, the Lunelli Estates have chosen to represent their new identity by resorting to the symbolism of the phases of the moon.

If farming is in the blood of ex-pat Scot Angus Thomson – he represents the fifth generation of Thomsons to work the land – then so too are wines and spirits. Both grandfathers were in the whisky business, but Angus forged a new path when he sold his farm in Forres and set up shop in NZ. More than a decade later, the Thomsons have a 31-hectare vineyard and a range of organic wines shining with beautiful varietal expression. The mission here is sustainability, following organic and biodynamic principles in the vineyard. It's no surprise then that the estate's name, 'Urlar', means 'the earth' in Gaelic.

El Esteco

Among the Calchaqui Valley's lush vegetation, rivers and rocky mountains, there emerges, unexpectedly, a stretch of desert. At an altitude of 1,800 metres, with its radiant sunshine and ideal temperature range of hot days and cool nights, the environment is perfect for vine growing. And it is here, in the heart of this unique valley, where El Esteco stands. French immigrants David and Salvador Michel founded the winery in 1892, taking advantage of this special region to produce distinctive and elegant high-end wines, with great concentration of colour, deep aromas and well-defined flavours.

Trimbach

Even after 13 generations, the Trimbachs of 2017 remain true to the philosophy handed down to them by their 19th century ancestor, Frédéric Emile. This means wines made to a bone-dry template, strong on structure, longevity and fruit, with unparalleled elegance, balance and food-friendly versatility. Trimbach offers a pure reflection of the sun-warmed, limestone-dominated vineyards surrounding Ribeauvillé, the medieval town the family has called home for nearly a century.

Beaujolais

Domaine Jean Tête

Jean Tête's family has been producing wine in "Les Dépôts" since the beginning of the 19th century, a few kilometres from Beaujeu, the historical capital of Beaujolais. Tête's Fleurie "La Bonne Dame" is the top wine that he produces. Most of the grapes are sourced from the "La Madone" sector of the Fleurie appellation, with perfect southern exposure ensuring maximum fruit ripeness and consistency of wine quality. The "Bonne Dame" is plummy and rounded, and a classic expression of Gamay.

Château Climens

The history of this château began in the 16th Century with the family of Roborel Climens who developed the vineyard. Thereafter, five families have succeeded each other at Climens. Their hard work led to its inclusion in the classification of 1855 as a Premier Cru of Barsac. Since 1974 the Lurtons have owned Château Climens, known as the Yquem of Barsac or the Lord of Barsac. Bérénice Lurton, daughter of Lucien Lurton, took over the reins of the estate in 1992.

Vignobles Dubard

The Dubard family owns several properties both on the right bank of Bordeaux (Lalande de Pomerol, Puisseguin-Saint-Emilion) and the south-west wine region. The secret of the Dubard success story? Fresh wines with great purity of fruit, including a Sauvignon Blanc that can give more hallowed names a run for their money, a Montravel of great leesy complexity and a supple, fragrant Merlot made in a way that lets the fruit sing.

Burgundy

Domaine Bernard Defaix

After speaking to Didier and Hélène Defaix for just five minutes, you start to realise what makes their wines so special. Not only do they have holdings in some of Chablis' best-situated vineyards, their attention to detail in vine growing and winemaking is astounding. Their focus has been on taking care of the vineyard through improving soil structure, biological pest control and painstaking vegetation management; their cellar work is similarly precise. All this enables the potential of each 'terroir' to fully express itself through fine, powerful and distinguished wines, which have a succulence of texture married to serious intensity of flavour that makes them delicious young, yet also capable of considerable cellaring.

Burgundy

Domaine François Mikulski

Unlike the vast majority of Burgundy's small-estate proprietors, François Mikulski neither came from a winemaking family, nor did he inherit any vineyards. He feels that in many ways this has been an advantage, as he hasn't been restricted by entrenched family attitudes. After gaining experience in California, he founded Domaine Mikulski in 1992. While he admires American technical expertise – and has applied it to his winemaking – he's a strong advocate of Burgundy's unique terroir. Now recognised as one of Meursault's superstars, his wines express a tension between explosive aromatics, sumptuous textures and crackling minerality.

Domaine Harmand-Geoffroy

Taking the reins from his father, Gérard, Philippe Harmand seeks to continue the good work of emphasising fruit, finesse and faithful expression of individual vineyard sites' personalities. Since Gevrey confers upon its wines a natural intensity and power, he does not seek to accentuate these characteristics further, instead looking for balance and succulence.

In 1840, the Ferret family established this 18-hectare estate, which is located at the heart of the most famous 'climats' of the Fuissé amphitheatre. Renowned for 'parcel by parcel' vinification pioneered by Madame Ferret, today this tradition is carried on by winemaker Audrey Baccini. At Domaine Ferret, they are driven by the belief that in order to make a great wine, one needs, above all, to respect one's heritage. Add to this a tailor-made approach to viticulture, and you've got a collection of truly sublime, complex wines.

That classic tasting note for benchmark, premium Chablis – precise, linear, with the scent of sea-washed shingle – could have been composed with the wines of Louis Michel in mind. In no other wine is the much-overused tasting note descriptor, minerality, so appropriate. If you're a true Chablis lover, then these are wines for you.

Domaine Lucien Boillot

In 1950 Lucien Boillot left his family in Volnay to lay down his own roots further north in Gevrey-Chambertin. Since 2003, his son Pierre has overseen the seven-hectare domaine: its vineyards are 60% in the Côte de Nuits and 40% in the Côte de Beaune. Each wine produced is a classic representation of its appellation - from Pommard to Gevrey - as Pierre's work in the cellars is geared towards transparent, terroir-driven wines of purity and finesse. That's not to say, however, that he's against rich, plump, lusciousness in his reds.

Owners Roger and Christine Saumaize took on the domaine in 1978, and have been dedicated to caring for the health of the soil and vines ever since. A faithful practice of organic viticulture, followed for 20 years, has combined perfectly with their attention to detail to result in beautiful wines, faithful to their origin.

La Gibryotte

Since it's near impossible to acquire new lands in Gevrey-Chambertin, the second generation of Dugats - Bertrand and Laetitia - manage a micronégociant business with the help of their father, Claude. These wines bear the name "La Gibryotte" a combination of the words Gibriacois (the inhabitants of Gevrey-Chambertin) and Layotte (a historical name for the women who used to do all the work in the vineyards). The wines, all from vineyards close to the family domaine, show similar elegance and poise but at a considerably more affordable price.

Lupé-Cholet

Based in Nuits-Saint-Georges, Lupé-Cholet was the creation of Alexandre de Mayol de Lupé and Félix de Cholet, who founded the winery in 1903. Bringing together tradition and modernity, these wines are purposed with expressing their character via the soil from which they originate. Careful sorting of the grapes, light pressing, partial or total de-stemming, and cold maceration prior to fermentation are the techniques used to imprint Lupé-Cholet's unique signature on the wines, which are rich and complex, and redolent of fruit.

Champagne Jacquart

Housed in the opulent 19th century Hôtel de Brimont, on the Boulevard Lundy in Reims, Champagne Jacquart is kept in good company, with fellow Champagne producers Krug and Roederer among its neighbours. As well as enabling winemaker Floriane to pick the best fruit for wines such as their cuvée de prestige, Alpha, and the house's benchmark Blanc de Blancs, the many growers and vineyards supplying Jacquart also guarantee consistency and quality for the core non-vintage cuvée, Brut Mosaïque.

Moving from sound engineering to winemaking, Jean Panis did not rest on his laurels when taking over his father's estate of 45 hectares in Minervois in 1996. His first vintage won the highest award in the French wine guide, Guide Hachette. Continuing with his achievements, Robert Parker also awarded the wines high scores; justifiable praise for wines that combine ripeness and suppleness with real Southern French character.

Emblematic French fortified wine estate Domaine Cazes is by far one of the most respected estates in Southern France. Founded by Michel Cazes in 1895, Domaine Cazes is located in Rivesaltes, in the heart of the Roussillon region - "The French Catalunya" - between the Pyrenees Mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. In 1997, 4th generation winemaker Emmanuel Cazes took over the estate from his father and initiated the organic and biodynamic conversion of all vineyards. Today, Domaine Cazes produces not only fortified wines such as Muscat de Rivesaltes, but has also acquired vineyards in different Roussillon appellations, including the recently created Clos des Paulilles in Collioure and Banyuls. Domaine Cazes is Europe's largest organic and biodynamic certified wine estate.

Located at the heart of France's Loire region, Caves de Sancerre pride themselves on being champions of the flagship Loire Valley wine, Sancerre. Their vineyards stretch across 15 communes, covering a vast diversity of villages, each with their own individual soil type – the primary trio being comprised of 'terres blanches' (white earth), 'caillottes' (little stones), and siliceous clay. The range of flavours achieved by utilising grapes from these separate terroirs ensure that Caves de Sancerre are responsible for some of the best blends in the region.

Domaine Laporte is one of the most highly-respected estates in the Loire Valley, comprised of more than 74 acres of vineyards in Pouilly-Fumé and Sancerre. Their flagship Sancerre comes from one of the finest vineyards in the appellation, Domaine du Rochoy, a 25-acre monopole vineyard carved out of the flint hillside overlooking the Loire River. As a certified organic producer, Domaine Laporte makes their wines in a very traditional and natural way, ensuring a sense of purity and excellence in the finished product.

Domaine Pierre Sourdais

Pierre Sourdais has built a reputation for the consistently high quality of his Chinon. With a plethora of different soil types on his 25-hectare property from which to choose his fruit, Pierre is able to produce wines of great character year in, year out. The Chinon Tradition, recently certified organic, is soft and supple, with ripe tannins and an elegant finish – a classic expression of Cabernet Franc.

Pithon-Paillé

A newcomer to the Loire, this is a family winery which was created in 2008 by Jo Pithon and his stepson, Joseph Paillé. The pair own a 13-hectare estate which is organically farmed and the wines are fermented using only natural yeasts. The wines are then aged for at least 10 months in French oak, allowing for microoxygenation.

Provence

Château Sainte Marguerite

The amiable and very talented Jean-Pierre Fayard has built up one of Côtes de Provence's most dynamic and well-respected estates. He now owns 91 hectares of prime vineyard around the village of La Londe, much of which is Cru Classé rated, and all of which he tends using organic viticulture. The elegant, food-friendly rosés are made predominantly from Grenache, with differing proportions of Cinsault, Mourvèdre and Syrah. Château Sainte Marguerite wines are notably respected for their freshness and maritime influence due to the La Londe terroir facing the Mediterranean Sea.

Rhône

Domaine Chante Cigale

Domaine Chante Cigale is situated on the left bank of the Rhône, between Orange and Sorgues, on a variety of soils which contain a high proportion of 'galets.' These are the large stones of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, which heat up during the day and release their heat at night, allowing the grapes to achieve maximum ripeness. The red is powerful, with defined fruit characters and supple tannins. The white is fresh and attractive and an interesting alternative to the ubiquitous Chardonnay.

Domaine Yves Cuilleron

Having trained as a mechanic, Yves got bitten by the wine bug in the 1980s. So when his uncle retired in 1987, Yves jumped at the chance to run the family estate. At the time, Condrieu was relatively unknown, and Yves' perfectionist approach from vine planting to wine bottling resulted in wines that were to grab the attention of both consumers and critics – making them hugely in demand, and raising the profile of the appellation as a whole.

Rhône

Charles Helfenbein

The region of Brézème, where Charles owns about two hectares, was originally abandoned after phylloxera hit in the 1800s. However, a century later, a few local growers, realised that the steep, clay and limestone slopes were better suited for wine than the peach trees that grew there at the time. After completing degrees in oenology and viticulture, Charles Helfenbein took over the vines and cellar work that his uncle had started in the year 2000. Charles' first solo vintage was 2007, and it wasn't long after that he was recognised by Rhône authority John Livingstone-Learmonth as an "impressive newcomer."

Domaine Brusset

The broken crags of Les Dentelles de Montmirail form a dramatic, gap-toothed backdrop to some of the finest vineyards of Gigondas. Steeply terraced, low-yielding and back-breaking to work, they simply wouldn't be worth cultivating if they didn't produce great wine. Thankfully, in cuvées such as Laurent Brusset's Le Grand Montmirail and Les Hauts de Montmirail, these south-facing terraces prove all that trouble worthwhile. The presence of a decent amount of Mourvèdre in the Brusset vineyards also gives an understated power and backbone that goes beyond typical Gigondas.

These two villages, 6km apart on the right bank of the Rhône, and not far from Châteauneuf-du-Pape on the opposite bank, symbolise a new spirit of dynamism for the Côtes du Rhône Villages appellation. Despite the characteristic differences in the wines produced from the villages of Laudun and Chusclan, the two joined forces in 2008, uniting 250 growers, many of them young and distinctly modern in their approach, and all determined to breathe new life into an area with a winemaking history dating back to Roman times.

Cantine Giacomo Ascheri

Take the road north towards Barolo and, in viticultural terms at least, you're faced with a choice: left to the sterner, more powerful expression of the Nebbiolo grape; or right towards its gentler, more perfumed and elegant As a winemaker, which do you choose? If you're the charming Matteo Ascheri, you don't – you have vineyards in both areas. The result is a bevy of Barolos that, when tasted together, illustrate the disarming diversity of this beautiful part of Piemonte.

Conterno Fantino

Conterno Fantino stands at the summit of 21st century Barolo, both literally and figuratively. From its stunning winery atop the Monforte d'Alba hill, this alliance of the Fantino and Conterno families produces a range of wines that are both unmistakably modern, yet also utterly respectful of the region's winegrowing heritage. That heritage is centred on vineyards that balance the need for Nebbiolo, with plantings of Barbera, Dolcetto, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay.

Since 1990, this jewel of Barolo has been run by the energetic and multi-talented Chiara Boschis. Her mission? To add an aromatically elegant edge to the legendary power of these great wines. She has added vineyards in Monforte to the original estate, but the heart of E. Pira remains as it was in the days of the late Luigi Pira – just 2.5 hectares of vines in Barolo's prized enclaves of Cannubi, Cannubi San Lorenzo, and Via Nuova.

Fontanafredda

Fontanafredda's history is peppered with tales of intrigue surrounding the Italian Royal family, but it is in the sympathetic hands of Oscar Farinetti, founder of the Eataly chain of Slow Food restaurants, that the winery has found its true fame. Under Farinetti, Fontanafredda's revival looks assured and this sleeping beauty of the Langhe – its vineyards are among the finest in the area – is now on a clear upward trajectory. It's a winery that combines this great history – Fontanafredda used to have its own bakery and school, and still preserves a great sense of community – with thoroughly modern production facilities for everything from Asti to Barolo.

The Caggiano winery is based in the town of Taurasi, the heartland of Aglianico, which is the main focus of their production. Antonio Caggiano, the founder of the winery, designed one of the wineries himself - the most spectacular of its time in Campania. Today, thousands of bottles are laid down in its galleries - which are made of the local "tufo" stone - giving the sturdy Aglianico time to soften and develop the deep crimson hues and intense fruit flavours it's best known for.

Elena Fucci

The vineyards were purchased in the 1960s at the foot of Mount Vulture, an extinct volcano. Later, Elena's grandfather and great-grandfather took care of the vineyards, selling the grapes after harvest and keeping just enough to produce a small batch of wine for personal consumption. Their first thought was that "six hectares of land are too much to keep for fun," so they decided to sell the land. Interested buyers were knocking down the door, but at the eleventh hour Elena backed down. She simply couldn't bear the idea of a stranger buying the family vineyard she grew up in, or that someone else may do something great with the oldest vineyards on Mount Vulture. At this point, Elena completely changed the plans she had for her future, and decided to invest in the area. Today Titolo, her Aglianico del Vulture DOCG, is one of the most respected red wines of Southern Italy. We have a small allocation and are proud to represent her in UK.

This historic, family-owned producer is now under the guidance of Donato Lanati, one of Italy's top winemakers. Francesco Candido purveys one of the most eclectic and innovative ranges in Puglia – the wines have interest and balance in spades, but continue to offer unbeatable value for money. The climate is Mediterranean with low rainfall, and ripening takes place slowly due to the striking contrast between day and night-time temperatures, resulting in deep fruit aromas, richness and concentration.

Librandi

The Librandi winery works with 230 hectares of vineyards around the Cirò region on the south coast of Calabria. Although the company was founded in 1950, the family has been working with wine for centuries, steeped in a love of tradition. The Librandi brothers are acutely aware of the benefits of technology and work closely with consultants and academics studying local varieties, clones and vineyard density. Their concentric vineyard, which somewhat resembles an alien crop circle, is just one example of this. The wines reflect the philosophy, with modern, clean, pure fruit, melded together with distinct local character.

Planeta

In Planeta's early years, expertise came from a surprising source: Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to capture the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily's grapes in their wines. The early success of their Chardonnay – which now boasts a cult following – gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world's eyes to the charms of Sicily's indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Greco and Nero d'Avola as it does to the winery's signature Chardonnay.

Santadi

It sometimes helps to think of Sulcis, in south-western Sicily, as Sardinia's Yorkshire (but with better weather), a coal-mining region where the coal mines have been shut by government decree. For the people of Sulcis, alternative employment came either through migration – it's said that if you look in any Italian restaurant kitchen in London you'll find at least one Sardinian working there – or through grape-growing. Local producer Santadi is of the latter group, with the company's dozens of growers producing wines prized throughout Italy for their suppleness and refinement. They don't tend to promote this however – Sardinians are often unassuming and, by Italian standards, even introverted – but these Carignano and Vermentino wines are suffused with distinctive character, and are a perfectly pitched combination of warmth and freshness.

Cantine Leonardo Da Vinci

When Cantine Leonardo da Vinci was founded in the Chianti winegrowing village of Vinci, also the birthplace of the genius Leonardo, the winery covered just 70 hectares and thirty small winegrowers. Over the past 50 years, the cooperative has expanded to include 200 partners who cultivate 750 hectares in the Tuscan hillsides. Their approach to winemaking is to harmonise the new and old together, by blending centuries-old winemaking heritage with the most modern winemaking techniques.

Castellani

Since 1903, Castellani has been exporting its finest estate wines from Tuscany. Although the wines have changed and evolved over the decades, their philosophy has remained consistent, with a strong belief that the quality of the wine begins in the vineyards. So too has their primary aim and aspiration – to create memorable wines, reflective of the family's passion, investment in research and new cellar technologies.

Fattoria dei Barbi

In 1969, the term 'Super Tuscan' was coined to describe the winery's Brusco dei Barbi, and the family's combined land holdings in Montalcino and Scansano continue to produce a stunning range of wines today. From the signature Brusco through to a supple Morellino di Scansano - not forgetting its redoubtable Brunellos – the winery now boasts a dairy and butchery, producing mouth-watering meats, sausages and cheeses – not to mention olive oil and honey. Just about everything that a bon viveur could dream of!

Il Poggione

High on its perch overlooking the lush Maremma, Tenuta Il Poggione has become synonymous with top quality Brunello for more than a century. Its dramatic scenery proved irresistible to Florentine landowner Lavinio Franceschi in the late 19th century, drawn to the area by the tales of a local shepherd whose sheep spent the summer months on the sunlit slopes between Montalcino and Sant'Angelo. Now in the capable hands of fifth generation owners L&L Franceschi, Il Poggione has about 125 hectares of the finest Brunello vineyards going, and a 10-year-old winery that combines modern equipment with a traditional approach, not least in the large French oak barrels so vital to the development of its classic Brunello and Rosso di Montalcino.

Podere di Brancaia

La Brancaia, encompassing the two estates Brancaia and Poppi, has been owned by the Swiss couple Brigitte and Brundo Widmer since 1981. Located in the heart of the Chianti Classico area, it saw a vertical take-off when its vintage 1983 won first place at a major Chianti Classico tasting. Since then, through uncompromising dedication to quality and a strong identity, the continuous recognition of Brancaia has been built up - spearheaded by the estates top wine Brancaia Il Blu, being already a classic for many wine lovers all over the world.

Poliziano

Since its foundation in 1961, Poliziano has swiftly established a reputation as one of Italy's leading producers of Montepulciano. The winery's story taps into the history and culture of this picture-postcard corner of Tuscany. The name Poliziano is a tribute to the 15th century scholar Angelo Ambrogini, tutor to the children of the Medici. His 'nickname,' Poliziano, is a simple reference to his birthplace - Montepulciano was originally Mons Politianus in Latin. And why Asinone? The vineyard gets its name from its shape, said to resemble the back of a mule.

Following their success in the world of sparkling wine, the Lunelli family decided to further their footprint with a range of top quality still wines. Made in three different regions throughout the country – Trentino, Tuscany and Umbria – these wines are elegant and honour their respective terroirs. Comparing themselves to artisans of time who wait patiently for their grapes to ripen on the vine and for their wines to mature in the dark depths of the cellar, the Lunelli Estates have chosen to represent their new identity by resorting to the symbolism of the phases of the moon.

Accordini

This family-run domain extends over two sites in the heart of Valpolicella Classico; four hectares in Negrar and six of the highest hectares in the appellation, at 400 metres altitude, in Fumane. The wines are outstanding and the reputation of the Acinatico name is growing all the time. Modernity is balanced by earth and roses, so characteristic of the terroir. Ferrari

Inspired by Champagne and propelled by his winemaking studies in Montpellier, Giulio Ferrari's vision was unwavering: to make the finest Metodo Classico sparkling wines in Italy. A bold pledge in 1902, but to this day, the wines of Ferrari remain true to their creator's vision, persisting through the arrival of the Lunelli family as owners of the business in 1952. This consistent philosophy has turned Giulio's dream into reality, and today Ferrari has firmly established their position as the finest sparkling wine producer in the country.

Giovanni Puiatti

An innovator in his own right, Vittorio Puiatti developed what is now Italy's dominant winemaking technique for white wines, frequently called the "Metodo Puiatti." Only 100% stainless steel is used during both the fermentation and ageing of the wines. The winery is the first cellar in Friuli to be constructed using only steel, concrete and glass, reflecting his motto of 'Save a Tree, Drink Puiatti' – in other words, no oak is used in any of the wines.

Without question, Jermann's Pinot Grigio is iconic. It's been described as the monarch of this highly trendy category, and continues to set the benchmark for premium Pinot Grigio. A state-of-the-art winery, which was beautifully designed to sit in a 'bowl' amongst their vineyards. It's the talk of the region, and very much reflective of Silvio Jermann's forward-thinking approach to winemaking. Silvio uses unique blending methods prior to vinification to produce highly-prized wines with hints of floral aromas, piercing varietal character, and an elegance that will only improve with age.

Sartori

Back in the late 19th century, Pietro Sartori's trattoria was a bustling venue where Veronese merchants and industrialists would meet, do business, eat and, of course, drink. As a result of these comings and goings, Pietro needed to maintain ample supply of good Rosso Veronese, which led him to buying a vineyard in Negrar in 1898. It was here that the Sartori story began. Stretching the boundaries of Veronese wine, without sacrificing the grapes and the local winemaking styles, these are bespoke wines for today's market.

Mariona

The trend towards lighter, brighter styles is relatively new in the Alicante DO, a trend which has most certainly been adopted by highly-acclaimed winemaker Pamela Geddes, who is responsible for this remarkable pair in the La Marina coastal zone of Alicante. The Mariona Blanco is an intensely perfumed dry blend of Moscatel and Sauvignon Blanc (with a lick of Viognier and Chardonnay) offering exotic lychee, lime and jasmine aromas. Alicante Bouschet is the name given to the unfamiliar teinturier grape (grapes with a red pulp!), displaying bright red cherry fruit and clove spice.

The vineyards of Txakoli occupy the north-west corner of the Spanish Basque Country. Hugging the Atlantic coastline in Getaria - the smallest region to produce this unique wine - is where Bordeaux-trained couple Maitena Barrero and Hector Gómez chose to set up and create their wine, Adur Txakolina. They work the vines to produce small yields - only 8000 bottles a year - to concentrate the Hondarribi Zuri grape in order to extract an intensity of aromas. It's a Txakoli with poise, weight, and an insatiable salty tang.

O Luar do Sil

After a 20 year tradition making red wines in Ribera del Duero with Pago de Los Capellanes, the natural restlessness of the Rodero Villa family carried them on to a new adventure in Valdeorras, Galicia. The name of the new estate, O Luar do Sil, means 'The Reflection of the Moon on the River Sil', alongside which vineyards cloak the steep terrain of the rugged valley. This specific location was chosen because the land here is unique: the granite and slate soils, together with the microclimate, have created the ideal conditions for artisanal viticulture. The wines produced in the region using the indigenous Godello grape are subtle, mineral and fresh, with complexity to evolve over the years.

Pazo das Tapias

The Pazo do Mar winery, founded in 2006, was discovered by now-owner Manuel Mendez and, amazingly, the future success of the winery all began when his car ran out of fuel one afternoon. Manuel, whose family had been in the wine game for 40 years, walked to the closest petrol station where he met an old school friend working the till. After a quick exchange, the old friend gave him a bottle of wine. The bottle of red was so magnificent that Manuel made it his mission to find out where it was made. When he finally tracked down the producer, he managed to twist his arm into selling him the entire winery. The winery resides in Pazos-Verín in the province of Ourense where they produce indigenous, up-and-coming Godello and Mencía in their 13 hectares of vineyards. The average age of the vines here is 25 years, the harvest is a completely hands-on affair.

Bodegas Chivite

J. Chivite Family Estates is an illustrious family with one of the longest histories of winemaking in Spain. When Julian Chivite Lopez inherited the now renowned estate, he acquired eleven generations of experience to go with it. Convinced that the wine's future lay in the quest for excellence, he introduced sweeping improvements and innovations throughout the winery. His dogged commitment to quality was reflected in the wines themselves, which today are a benchmark for innovative, prestigious Spanish products.

Ramón Bilbao

Established in 1924 and based in Haro, Ramón Bilbao has 180 vineyards spread across Rioja. Today, it is the fastest growing winery in the region and has firmly established itself as one of Spain's most exciting and innovative producers. The jewel of the star-studded range is the Crianza, which holds the spot as the most popular Rioja Crianza in the Spanish on trade. Born and bred in the region, chief winemaker Rodolfo Bastida is a man who likes to push the boundaries and believes the future lies in trial and exploration.

Vintae

In Vintae, we're proud to have a one-of-a-kind, revolutionary producer – restless, creative and sometimes rebellious, with projects in over 15 DOs. The heart of their winemaking heritage lies in Rioja, Bodega Classica, specifically in the historic village of San Vicente de la Sonsierra. The Riojan Sonsierra is an area located on the south side of the Cantabrian Mountain Range and the Toloño mountains, which protects it from cold winds and humidity.

Rias Baixas

Bodegas Eidosela

Bodegas Eidosela is a small co-operative, started in 2003 by seven founding members who shared a love of wine and art. This passion is reflected in all their endeavours, but none so much as their Albariño - a modern style that is bright, crisp and elegant. There are now 60 members who own 45 hectares of vines, which they hope to bump up to 60 hectares. The staff includes Jorge M Domínguez Hervella, one of the best winemakers in Rías Baixas, who supervises development in the vineyard and the winery.

Ribera del Duero

Pago de los Capellanes

Upheld as the rising star on the Spanish scene over the past few decades, the landscape of Ribera del Duero is actually suffused with centuries of wine heritage – from gnarled Tinto Fino vines of venerable age, to the labyrinthine wine cellars that wind beneath the old cobbled streets of Aranda de Duero. Pago de los Capellanes may have all the modern bells and whistles - a recently-expanded vineyard and stunning winery facilities - but their history is rich and long, dating back to the 14th century.

Bodegas Barón

The story of Bodegas Barón began in 1895 when Manuel Barón Fernández acquired a collection of old soleras in Sanlúcar de Barrameda in the southern Spanish region of Andalusia. More than 100 years later, they may be one of the oldest bodegas in the region, but they're still steadfastly committed to quality and innovation. The family-owned estate has invested in the future of sustainable development, and uses environmentally friendly products to guarantee quality across their portfolio. In 2014 Bodegas Barón embarked on a makeover of their entire range, and now with new avant-garde labels, they've set themselves on a trajectory of modernisation that will set them apart from their peers.

Herdade do Esporão

Herdade do Esporão lies in the heart of Alentejo, 170km South East of Lisbon. The estate dates from 1267 and the vineyard area is even older, dating as far back as the Roman period. Since then considerable modernisation has taken place, and more recently Esporão has been using sustainable and organic farming methods. In 2013 they won the coveted "Sustainability of the Year Award" in the Drinks Business Green Awards.

Even among the breathtakingly beautiful and historic terraced vineyards of the Douro Valley, Quinta do Crasto is special. The estate celebrated its 400th birthday in 2015, and a demarcation stone marks its inclusion in the first geographical classification of the region's vineyards in the 18th century. Owned by the Roquette family, Crasto is comprised of 70 hectares of vines that cling precariously to their schistous perch above the river.

Pfaffl

R&A Pfaffl was founded in 1978 by Roman Pfaffl and his wife Adelheid. Located just north of Vienna in the Weinviertel, Austria's premier winegrowing region, the winery was originally a working farm with less than two acres under vine. Over the years the winery has expanded and now encompasses more than 200 acres of sustainably farmed vineyards, planted with indigenous Austrian varieties including Grüner Veltliner and Zweigelt. In their short existence, not only have the Pfaffl wines been recognised for their excellence with international accolades, but the family too has been praised for helping to bring the world's attention to Austria's wine scene and their indigenous varieties.

Mosel

Paulinshof

On the banks of the Mosel River, in the town of Kesten, lies a small, family-owned producer oozing with history: indeed, records suggest the St-Paulin estate was involved in vine growing as early as AD 936. Named as the top site in the Mosel in Napoleon's 1804 classification, the famed Brauneberger Juffer vineyard also has religious overtones: 'Juffer' means 'maidens' in the local Moselle dialect and, reputedly, the original vineyard was planted by an industrious trio of nuns.

Henschke

The story of the Henschke family and their wines has almost as many layers and facets as a great vintage of Mt Edelstone or Hill of Grace Shiraz; this is a producer for whom the descriptor 'New World' seems utterly inappropriate in anything but geographical terms. It's an inescapably involving saga, from Johann Christian Henschke's emigration from German Silesia in 1841 in search of religious freedom, to the planting of their two legendary vineyards, Hill of Grace and Mt Edelstone.

Fowles Wine

When a company calls one of its wines 'Ladies Who Shoot Their Lunch', you know you're experiencing a wine story that's just a bit, well, different. Matt Fowles – self-taught hunter, chef, winemaker and jazz trumpet player – was an unfulfilled lawyer before buying a winery out of administration and creating Fowles Wine. Food-friendly wines are Fowles' focus, with their products specifically designed to be consumed with game.

Central Otago

Carrick Winery

It's been more than 20 years since Steve and Barbara Green established the first of Carrick's vineyard plantings on the Cairnmuir terraces at Bannockburn in Central Otago. What was, at the time, a tangle of wild thyme and briar roses, has now evolved into one of the region's most successful producers. Pinot Noir is the trump card here – richly coloured, immensely aromatic and full of cherry and plum fruit – but don't underestimate Carrick's characterful Chardonnay, which has enviable fruit purity.

Yealands Estate

Conventional wisdom warned against planting vineyards in the rugged foothills of the Awatere Valley, subject to harsh weather conditions and tough soils. Thankfully, Peter Yealands saw opportunity in this long-ignored area. Long hours and unstinting determination brought about the creation of the remarkable Seaview Vineyard – New Zealand's largest privately-held, fully carbon-neutral wine estate, and producer of some of the Southern Hemisphere's finest aromatic white wines.

Waiheke Island

Man O'War

Man O' War is a stunning array of coastal hillsides with high cliffs and pristine beaches on the eastern end of Waiheke Island. Captain James Cook first sighted the rows of magnificent Kauri trees on this coastline on his first voyage around the islands of New Zealand, and noted they'd make ideal masts for the Navy's Man O' War battleships, hence the land gained its name. Today, Man O' War is made up of 150 acres of vines planted in 76 individual hillside blocks, each with a distinct soil profile and microclimate. Winemaker Duncan McTavish ensures each small parcel of vines are carefully tended and harvested by hand, then vinified separately, fusing classic Old World techniques with innovative New World ideas to give his wines great intensity, depth, and personality.

Citrusdal Mountain

FRAM

After 12 long years working at Boschendal Wineries, Thinus Krüger decided it was time to be his own boss. Part of a new-wave generation of young winemakers in South Africa, Thinus does not limit his talents to just one part of the country. He travels all regions, intent on the quest to discover uncharted areas with the best quality grapes. With Pinotage and Chenin from Citrusdal Mountain, Chardonnay from Robertson, and Shiraz from Swartland, the wines make up an eclectic snapshot of the best of South Africa, and all in the bold, intense style that Krüger has perfected along the way.

Arendsig

Lourens van der Westhuizen is a fifth generation farmer but the first generation to make his own wine on the farm. In 2004 Lourens was given an untouched part of the farm, on the slopes, and worked for four months to prepare these soils, for the future of Arendsig wines. Lourens' philosophy is to create great single vineyard wines from unique soil, climate and location. It's the soil with all the microbes, cycle of elements and the help of living organisms that create the heartbeat for his vines. The location towards the sun, wind and holistic climatical conditions reflects the uniqueness of each vineyard.

Ken Forrester Wines

Without the efforts of industrious men like Ken Forrester, South African Chenin Blanc might be scarcely more than a footnote to the country's winemaking history – a workhorse grape, producing vast amounts of unmemorable white wine. Thankfully, this Zambia-born former restaurateur saw beyond the grape's obvious quaffability, going on to produce wines such as The FMC that have not only elevated the varietal to world renown, but resulted in their creator being bestowed the moniker 'Mr Chenin.'

Kleinood

The de Villiers family has left deep footprints in the history of the South African wine industry through the centuries, and Kleinood and the Tamboerskloof wines are no exception. The French Huguenot, Jacob de Villiers, bought the wine farm Boschendal between Stellenbosch and Franschhoek, after immigrating to the Cape of Good Hope in 1688. In the year 2000 Gerard de Villiers, a direct descendant of Jacob, and his wife, Libby, found the piece of land that stole their hearts – complete with mountains, river and a pristine tract of indigenous forest. Tamboerskloof is once again an integral part of the de Villiers family history as well as that of Cape Town and the Boland. The name Tamboerskloof means the valley (kloof) of the drums (tamboer).

Elqui Valley

Viña Falernia

If your knowledge of the vineyards of Chile is limited to Maipo, Rapel and Colchagua, the Elqui Valley might come as a bit of a shock. This northern enclave of earth tremors and UFO-spotting really does resemble a valley, running east to west and with a growing population of vines drawing on the vital irrigation of the Elqui River (there's typically less than three inches of rainfall a year in this arid region).

The South

Laberinto

Rafael Tirado is the creator and winemaker of the boutique Laberinto, based in a stunning location overlooking Lake Colbun, Maule. Sitting at the foothills of the Andes, 600m above sea level, this is considered the coolest spot in Chile, with wines of a naturally lower pH than the Leyda Valley. Raphael's Sauvignon Blanc is gaining something of a cult following, and the volcanic ash and clay impart an undeniable minerality to the wine. Interestingly, the unusual labyrinths of the vineyards – hence Laberinto – were planted to achieve more complexity in the wine, as a result of varying exposures of the fruit to the sun.

Santa Ana

The story of Santa Ana is defined by constant evolution and development, from the winery's foundation by Italian émigré and winemaking pioneer Luis Tirasso in 1891, to the company's leadership in the Argentinian market in the late 1970s, and its exploration of overseas destinations in the years since. Today, its wines are sold in more than 50 countries around the world, and the secret of Santa Ana's success lies firmly in the vineyards. Esteemed winemaker Rodolfo 'Opi' Sadler has access to an enviable array of quality fruit sourced from all over Mendoza.

Salta

El Esteco

Among the Calchaqui Valley's lush vegetation, rivers and rocky mountains, there emerges, unexpectedly, a stretch of desert. At an altitude of 1,800 metres, with its radiant sunshine and ideal temperature range hot days and cool nights, the environment is perfect for the vine growing. And it is here, in the heart of this unique valley where El Esteco stands. French immigrants David and Salvador Michel founded the winery in 1892, taking advantage of this special region to produce distinctive and elegant high-end wines, with great concentration of colour, deep aromas and well-defined flavours.

Omero

If Napa is the Bordeaux of California, then Oregon is the Burgundy. There are obvious climatic and varietal parallels, but Omero Cellars sees things slightly differently. This family-owned and operated winery, set in Ribbon Ridge, the smallest AVA of the Willamette Valley, is quick to point out that it's not aiming to replicate the Côte d'Or, but to champion Oregon's unique soils, climate, fruit – and most importantly people. It's an individuality that is apparent in the Omero wines, from Pinot Noir to Chardonnay. Winemaker and biodynamics specialist Chad Stock's Pinot Noirs are the product of an attention to detail that borders on obsession, from the tailoring of Burgundy clones to Oregon terroir, to his treatment of prized yeast cultures as if they were sourdough.

14 Hands

14 Hands wines are inspired by the unbridled spirit of the wild horses that once freely roamed eastern Washington. Measuring just fourteen hands tall — a “hand” equivalent to the width of one’s palm — these tenacious little horses would travel down from the hills every day to drink from the mighty Columbia River and graze along the riverbank, then retreat back to cool off at night. Washington’s wild horses have become living symbols of the pioneer spirit of the American West.

Laudun Chusclan

These two villages, 6km apart on the right bank of the Rhône, and not far from Châteauneuf-du-Pape on the opposite bank, symbolise a new spirit of dynamism for the Côtes du Rhône Villages appellation. Despite the characteristic differences in the wines produced from the villages of Laudun and Chusclan, the two joined forces in 2008, uniting 250 growers, many of them young and distinctly modern in their approach, and all determined to breathe new life into an area with a winemaking history dating back to Roman times.

Boheme

Primitivo, a native varietal of Puglia, in the heel of Italy's boot, is derived from the Latin Primativus meaning 'early to ripen' - it's no surprise then that it's one of the first red grapes to be harvested in Southern Italy. Thanks to modern winemaking skills, to grape's been elevated from a humble quaffing wine to a delicious, jammy and moreish style, whose quality belies its price tag. A hugely popular red for casual dining lists.

Castellani

Since 1903, Castellani has been exporting its finest estate wines from Tuscany. Although the wines have changed and evolved over the decades, their philosophy has remained consistent, with a strong belief that the quality of the wine begins in the vineyards. So too has their primary aim and aspiration – to create memorable wines, reflective of the family's passion, investment in research and new cellar technologies.

Cantine Volpi

Founded in Tortona in 1914, Cantine Volpi is still family-run, with fourth generation Carlo Volpi now at the helm. With a long winemaking history, the Tortonese hills sit at the meeting point of Lombardy, Emilia Romagna and Liguria, and there is evidence of wine production as far back as 1198 with a grape press found in the local monastery. The Barbera and Cortese wines in this range are a reflection of the climate and the unique characteristics of the Tortona region.

Sartori

Back in the late 19th century, Pietro Sartori's trattoria was a bustling venue where Veronese merchants and industrialists would meet, do business, eat and, of course, drink. As a result of these comings and goings, Pietro needed to maintain ample supply of good Rosso Veronese, which led him to buying a vineyard in Negrar in 1898. It was here that the Sartori story began. Stretching the boundaries of Veronese wine, without sacrificing the grapes and local winemaking styles, these are bespoke wines for today's market.

Herdade do Esporão

Herdade do Esporão lies in the heart of Alentejo, 170km South East of Lisbon. The estate dates from 1267 and the vineyard area is even older, dating as far back as the Roman period. Since then considerable modernisation has taken place, and more recently Esporão has been using sustainable and organic farming methods. In 2013 they won the coveted "Sustainability of the Year Award" in the Drinks Business Green Awards.

Lanya

Lanya, Primera Luz and Los Tortolitos are all produced by Viñedos Puertas, a family-run business founded in 1950. The vineyard is comprised of 80 hectares of fields irrigated by water flowing down from the Andes Mountains, and a one-million-litre capacity winery known as El Milagro, located at the heart of the Curico Valley. The wines embody the character of the region, and display brilliant freshness. On the back of a growing market demand for good value Chilean Sauvignon Blanc and Merlot, we're pleased to be able to welcome Los Tortolitos range into our portfolio.

Santa Ana

The story of Santa Ana is defined by constant evolution and development, from the winery's foundation by Italian émigré and winemaking pioneer Luis Tirasso in 1891, to the company's leadership in the Argentinian market in the late 1970s, and its exploration of overseas destinations in the years since. Today, its wines are sold in more than 50 countries around the world, and the secret of Santa Ana's success lies firmly in the vineyards. Esteemed winemaker Rodolfo 'Opi' Sadler has access to an enviable array of quality fruit sourced from all over Mendoza.
